April Fool's Day Jokes Fading into Memories? Date Back to Antiquity

By N. E. BYRNE (Central Press Association) What's happened to the old-fashioned April Fool joke? Has it, too, vanished into the limbo of the lost like the St. Louis Browns, the celluloid collar, the five-cent cup of coffee and other items which once seemed such permanent parts of the American scene?

Let's hope not. However, it has been ages since we last saw a really good April Fool joke being perpetrated on some gullible citizen.

It's been years now since we last heard of a trusting citizen being sent after a paper-stretcher, a left-handed monkey wrench or a can of polkadot paint. And what's become of that once perennial telephone memo that a Mr. Fox wished us to call him at a certain number (the city zoo, of course)? Who can remember when he last saw what looked like a well-filled wallet lying innocently on the sidewalk—but with a treacherous string attached? And the battered, old hat which cunningly concealed a toe-fracturing brick—it, too, has disappeared, even from the comic strips.

Maybe the H-bomb menace had made us a less prank-appreciating generation. However, no matter what's the cause—the April Fool joke isn't what it used to be in a gayer, happier day.

The old-fashioned April Fool joke, while it came to its full flowering in these United States, actually dated back to antiquity.

Meanderings

In all probability the native Americans (Indians) were smoking tobacco in their stone pipes thousands of years before tobacco was introduced in Europe by a Spanish doctor in 1558, nearly 400 years ago.

Tobacco is native to America and had to be introduced into Europe and elsewhere, the British receiving their first taste of the weed from Sir Walter Raleigh in 1586.

The Indians found tobacco growing wild and had been smoking the dried leaves for a long, long time before white man came to the Western Hemisphere.

While the Indians found tobacco growing wild, the better type of the weed which is most grown today came from South America. It is known as nicotiana tabacum. The natives in the West Indies also were found to be smoking tobacco and inhaling the smoke through their nostrils.

Wild tobacco still grows in America; I have seen it growing in the hill areas of southern and southeastern Ohio.

Many of the stone pipes used by the aborigines have been found in Fayette County and while some of them have been carved from slate others of them have been fashioned from hard glacial stones which were brought here by the ice sheet 12,000 to 40,000 years ago.

Some of the stone pipes weighed several pounds and many of them were skillfully carved to represent animals, birds and even human beings.

I am glad these wonderful mementoes of the stone age race are now being preserved for posterity.

Farm Bureau Tax Hike Plan Received Coldly

Ohio Senate Chieftain Dead Set Against Any New Revenue Measures

COLUMBUS (AP)—Farmer insistence on new state taxes for expanded school, mental health and agricultural programs appeared headed today towards a legislative stone wall.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation told lawmakers by letter that five sources of additional revenue offered a potential yield of $100 million more a year.

After listing the sources according to preference, the federation termed them "stop-gap" measures and called for creation of a commission to make a two-year study of Ohio's tax structure.

The proposals hit the Legislature shortly after Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) asserted he "had the votes" to block any new taxes this session.

Although Mechem described himself as "just a farm boy," the Senate has come to be regarded as city-minded and more liberal on tax matters than the predominantly rural House.

BUT THIS session, the position of the two houses appears reversed. House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) and his lieutenants have declared against new taxes but evinced a disposition to accept them if necessary.

Not so Mechem. The tax developments occurred while the House Finance Committee struggled to wring from Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche's record-high $331½ million budget enough money for needed programs.

Farm Bureau Federation tax suggestions listed in the order of preference were:

- 1. Cent-a-pack increase in cigarette taxes to raise $10 million more.
- 2. Additional $1.50-a-gallon tax on liquor for an extra $15 million.
- 3. Extra $5 million from tax on state-sanctioned race track betting.
- 4. Return of one-cent sales tax on nine to 40-cent retail purchases for $10 million more.
- 5. Boost the maximum tax on out-of-state purchases for use in Ohio from three per cent to four per cent for $60 million more.

The federation also cited pending proposals for a severance tax on minerals taken from the earth and to give counties power to levy income taxes.

ANOTHER proposal would boost the intangible levy on bank deposits. (Please turn to page two)

Deaf Mute Given Life Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lowell S. Large, 28, a deaf mute, was sentenced yesterday to life in Ohio Penitentiary for burglary of an inhabited dwelling at night with the intent to commit rape.

Judge Edward Blythin sentenced him after a jury found him guilty and did not recommend mercy. Large will be eligible for parole in 10 years.

Filibuster Record Claimed But Old Champ Hollers Foul

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A talkin' Texan, member of the state senate, claimed a new filibuster record today, but the old champion hollered foul.

Sen. Wayne Wagonseller of Bowie talked (with help) for 28 hours and 6 minutes in an effort to prevent a cut in state motor bus registration fees.

But the old filibuster king, Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton claimed a foul. Phillips was forced to stand erect last week when he set what he claimed was a national record by talking 23 hours and 35 minutes in support of more charity beds for a hospital in Galveston.

"If they'd let me do like he did," said Phillips, "I coulda talked all summer."

Wagonseller's leg was shot up during World War II. Senate rules were relaxed enough to permit him to lean or sit on his desk during much of the questioning.

Whether Wagonseller's effort

was in vain remained in doubt today. The Senate tabled his proposal. With final passage still to come, Wagonseller didn't know whether he would continue talking Monday when the Senate reconvenes.

The Bowie senator was still going strong, in a manner of speaking, when he quit. He said, "I think I could have gone on a few more hours tonight, if I'd had to."

Actually, Wagonseller had done no more talking than two sympathetic colleagues during the last few hours of his oration. Senators Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock and William Moore of Bryan had kept up a steady rain of "questions" throughout the afternoon—each "question" being about a chapter of the Texas Almanac, followed by something to the effect of "Did you know that, senator?"

Under Senate rules, a speaker may relinquish the floor for courtesy resolutions, or questions from other members without losing his right to continue speaking.

Ike Says Soviets Don't Want War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was described today as believing Russia does not want to fight a major war now, nor support one.

A highly placed senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said a reply of that nature was given when the question of Russia's intentions was raised at yesterday's White House conference of Senate leaders with the President and Secretary of State Dulles.

The Washington Post and Times-Herald said Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) represented Eisenhower as telling the conference he did not think Russia would back up Red China in an attack on the Chinese Nationalist-held Quemoy and Matsu islands, just off the Chinese mainland.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said the senators were told Eisenhower had made no decision on whether the United States will help the Chinese Nationalists defend the coastal islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

BECAUSE OF this, he said, "the question of war or peace still is unsettled" in the Formosa area.

The United States is pledged to help defend Formosa, seat of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government. No commitment has been made on Quemoy and Matsu, which lie astride two routes which the Reds might use to attack Formosa.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) said there was "nothing alarming—no immediate crisis" indicated by Eisenhower and Dulles in the Formosa area.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said that "if they know what they are going to do about Quemoy and Matsu, they didn't tell us."

In New York, meanwhile, officers of the National Council of Churches urged Eisenhower to "resist the pressure" of those advocating "policies that could lead to a third world war." The churchmen also expressed misgivings about any action by the United States, without its allies, near Formosa.

The two-hour White House conference, Johnson said, "covered the world" with Dulles doing most of the talking. He said that "some good may come out of it, certainly no harm will." He said the Democrats offered "no specific advice" on foreign policies.

Police Study Solid Clues In Tot's Death

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan police today worked on their first solid clues in the murder of 7-year-old Barbara Gaca.

Plaster moulds were made of fresh tire tracks and footprints which led to the desolate garbage dump at the end of a lovers' lane where the school girl's mutilated body was found yesterday.

The dump was in suburban Oakland County, 23 miles from her home.

The child, missing a week, had been raped, beaten, strangled to death and then knifed 15 times.

Before the body was found, police had checked out more than 600 tips without success.

Pathologist Richard E. Olsen, of Pontiac, said the girl probably died March 24, the day she went off to school, her rosary and homework in her hand. He said the knife occurred after death.

Led to the morgue to identify his daughter, grief-stricken Frank Gaca Jr., a Detroit postman, stayed 90 seconds and burst from the room, his face twisted in agony. "I only hope she didn't suffer," he whispered.

The child's body, clad only in a cotton dress, was discovered by a railroad section hand who spotted the Army blanket in which it was wrapped.

South Viet Nam Chieftain Woos Wavering Opposition

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem sought today to bolster further his embattled government by wooing another wavering leader of the private armies seeking his overthrow.

The American-supported premier also was reported preparing to announce formation of a new non-partisan government excluding from the Cabinet the Hoa Hao and Cao Dai religious sects, which oppose him. They hold four seats each at present.

Saigon passed another calm night as the Binh Xuyen society, third of the South's dissident, privately armed groups, and the government stuck to their truce.

Business returned to normal in the capital today for the first time since the Binh Xuyen staged Wednesday's brief revolt that cost 26 lives. Taking advantage of the lull, Gen. Paul Ely, French commissioner general for Indochina, sought to harden the truce into something more permanent.

DIEM'S AIDES worked behind

The dress that had guests seeing double is worn by Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower (left) as she shakes hands with Mrs. Edward Martin, wife of the Republican senator from Pennsylvania, at the Washington tea where the incident took place. In the background is Mrs. Walter F. George, wife of the chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee. Mrs. Eisenhower was wearing the green print taffeta when another guest, Mrs. Durrie Crane, showed up wearing a nearly identical creation. Said the First Lady, "Oh, you've got the same dress on. I just love it. Don't you?" Replied Mrs. Crane, "I hope I look one-third as nice in mine as you do in yours." (International Soundphoto)

Band Is Applauded In Spring Concert

Another success today had been written into the records by the Washington C. H. High School band as evidenced by the thunderous applause that was accorded every one of the 14 numbers on the program of the annual Spring concert Thursday night.

The band is to present the same concert a second time Friday night. The oft-repeated applause that marked the evening started when William B. Clift, the school's music director, took his place on the podium while the band sat at rigid attention.

As has come to be a fixed custom, the concert was opened with a march, "The Pride of the Marines."

Then came the first of several classics, a piece which the band handled with the expertise of a professional organization. It was "The Royal Fireworks Music," written by Handel in 1749 and played in three parts by the WHS band in 1955—Bouree, an old part of the Fireworks music, Minuet, the dance of little steps, and Allegro, which means the rejoicing.

In "Tournament of Trumpets" a trumpet quartet of Bonnie Knisley, Webb Ellis, Dale Fent and Douglas Rider, took the featured part against background music by the entire band.

For the "Green Meadows Overture," the band presented the care-free spirit of the land and the triumph of nature by starting with subdued tones and then picking up the tempo as the mood moved along in the gay melodies of the festival of music.

Before the curtain was drawn for the close of the first part for the intermission, the band swung into "Jazz Rhumba," a rhythm piece that picked up the lighter spirit of the audience and then into the old favorite march, "Semper Fidelis," by John Phillips Sousa.

THE SECOND part of the program opened with the difficult "Symphony in C Minor, No. 5," by Beethoven.

A saxophone solo, "Estilian Caprice," by Linda Perrill brought prolonged applause.

And then came two numbers that were about as close to novelties as any on the program, — "Me and Juliet" and "Waggy for Woodwinds."

"Me and Juliet" was a medley of six Richard Rodgers tunes and the "Waggy of Woodwinds" featured the clarinets and saxophones against the backdrop of the band music.

One of the always sad moments of the concerts came with their last concert. Each boy and —the presentation of the 26 seniors in the band who on the next night would be in their places for their last concert. Each boy and girl stood in his place as Bandmaster Clift called his name. They were given a big ovation.

Then came the surprise of the evening—the mystery tune to which Bandmaster Clift had referred so casually. It was a march which he had written himself and dedicated to the Record-Herald.

So tuneful was "The Record-Herald March" that it brought down the house; after the concert, Clift was showered with praise and compliments on his composition.

Duster Swirls Over Southwest

CHICAGO (AP)—Duststorms continued to swirl over sections of the Southwest today but some other nearby areas got beneficial rain.

The gusty winds which stirred up dust clouds yesterday from New Mexico to South Dakota were concentrated in northern and western Texas, southeast New Mexico and southern Oklahoma.

The same storm also brought rain to parts of dry areas of Kansas, with Russell reporting more than 1 inch in six hours. Showers and thundershowers hit areas from the eastern border of Kansas southward through east Texas. Hail was reported in some areas.

Sheppards Leave $272,078 Estate

CLEVELAND (AP)—The parents of convicted slayer Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard left combined holdings worth $272,078.97, according to inventories filed in probate court.

The property of Mrs. Ethel N. Sheppard was appraised at $147,015.13, and that of her husband, Dr. Richard N. Sheppard, at $125,063.84. Mrs. Sheppard shot herself Jan. 7, just 11 days before her husband died in Bay View Hospital, which he founded.

Under terms of the parent's will, their estate was to be divided equally among their three sons.

Island Shaken Violently For 8-Hour Period

Northwest Mindanao Hardest Hit; Many Reported Homeless

MAINILA (AP)—Violent earthquakes shook southern Philippines for nearly eight hours today, leaving at least 164 dead, thousands homeless and widespread destruction.

Hardest hit was the palm-tree-studded belt of northwestern Mindanao, second largest island in the archipelago. The first heavy shock hit the area at 2:15 a. m. Thereafter a chain reaction of tremors set in, heaving the earth on Panay, Negros, Samar, Cebu, Leyte and Bohol islands.

The Philippine Red Cross said the death toll appeared largest at Lake Lanao on Mindanao. Coastal towns to the west were devastated. Houses crumpled, churches collapsed and the power failed.

Capt. Angelo Cruz, public relations officer of the 4th Military Area, embracing Mindanao, reported there were 164 confirmed dead in Lanao province and 15 missing.

A Philippine News Service dispatch from Iligan reported earth fissures measuring as wide as a foot in some places. The tremors caused landslides.

THE NEWS SERVICE said 10 persons were hurt at Iligan and a waterfront office building there slid into the sea.

From Ozamis City (Misamis), a town of 35,262, an estimated $1 million in damage was reported. At least 2,000 were homeless.

"Everyone in this city and nearby towns thought the world had ended and death had come," a Manila Times correspondent messaged from Ozamis.

The Weather Bureau plotted the epicenter at some 600 miles south and southeast of Manila or a point between Ozamis and Iligan cities in Mindanao.

Ozamis is located in Misamis Occidental province. Iligan, with a population of 25,725, is in Lanao province to the east.

The Weather Bureau said the greatest intensity of the earthquake was recorded at Dipolog City, population 40,618, on the northern tip of Zamboanga province on Mindanao.

The reading at Dipolog was 7 on a scale of 9.

The bureau said it had no recording at Ozamis but believed the intensity was greater there. Readings at other cities ranged from 2 to 6.

Coming in the early morning hours when most people were asleep, the earthquake threw villagers into panic.

The stately stone Roman Catholic church at Ozamis, built in Spain's occupation, was reported destroyed. Public buildings trembled and fell.

Water spouted from broken mains. Electric lines snapped. Men, women and children scrambled for safety in the predawn darkness.

A wharf at Ozamis was badly damaged, making it unserviceable.

The government mobilized relief agencies to assist the stricken areas.

Relief kitchens were established by the Red Cross. Dr. Feliciano Cruz said, "It is impossible to estimate the total cost of damage and destruction caused but it's certain to run into millions of pesos." A peso is worth 50 cents.

Farm Boy Killed By Dad's Tractor

FOSTORIA (AP)—Lynn Eldon Painter, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Painter of Rt. 2, Fostoria, died yesterday when he became entangled in the machinery of a tractor.

The little boy's father was loading a farm wagon with the tractor when the youth, who was playing in the barnyard, climbed upon the tractor and fell into the machinery.

Fire Pleases Kids

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—To the delight of local youngsters, a warehouse containing 15,000 gallons of castor oil caught fire yesterday. But firemen controlled the blaze before all the oil was destroyed.

Balloons Bob Over City As 5,000 Are Presented To Kids

That sound echoed along Court Street more than once Friday as some youngster let go of the string of a helium-filled balloon and watched, waiting, as his toy sailed off into the blue.

By mid-morning, the sky was dotted with bobbing red, blue, yellow and orange balloons.

But a lot more stayed closer to the ground. A great lot more, A. Russell Hinchee, manager of the Murphy Store here, says that 5,000 balloons will be handed out by Murphy employees today and tomorrow.

The balloons, along with some 3,500 shopping bags, are being given out to celebrate the opening of the newly-reddecorated and enlarged Murphy Store.

Four Murphy employees are assigned to the sole job of inflating the balloons with helium gas, the non-inflammable stuff that gives balloons their "upliftiness."

The helium comes into the store in big tanks, and the balloons are set on a special valve. When the valve is opened the balloons puff up, a string is snapped around their necks, and that's that. Hinchee says they can be inflated at a terrific rate this way.

And that's just how they're coming—at a terrific rate.

April Fool's Day

share of grim times, are said to enjoy April Fool pranks which take place during what is known as the Feast of Huli, observed on March 31.

Incidentally, in conducting exhaustive research for this scholarly treatise on April Foolism, an interesting item came to light. It seems that in the early days of American education it was the custom on April 1 for older school boys to send younger first-termers to the library to look up and find the name of Adam's grandfather. Pretty good, eh?—Adam's grandfather!

By the way, who was Adam's grandfather?

Election Tuesday For Eagles Lodge

Plans for the annual election of the Eagle Lodge here Tuesday today were virtually complete.

For the second consecutive year, the election will be by printed ballot.

The polls are to open at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and remain open until 8:15 o'clock in the evening.

This year there are contests for only two chairs: candidates for worthy president are Earl G. Allison and Harvey J. Heironimus and candidates for vice president are Nelson Whaley and Ernest Pummell.

Efforts are being made to persuade all Eagles to exercise their rights in the selection of officers for the aerie here.

D. R. Stanfield, the federation's assistant executive secretary, observed in the letter that income from net wages and salaries has gained in Ohio while income from farm property has declined.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. George, 77-year-old Democrat from Georgia, has moved into a vacuum in the Senate and has become in effect there President Eisenhower's strong right arm on foreign policy.

George, in his own right and as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, is the most respected and influential Democrat on foreign affairs in the Senate, where the Democrats, who have a majority, could give Eisenhower the miseries.

But George has backed the President repeatedly on foreign policy and has rallied other Democrats to his support. It was no wonder the President this week publicly expressed his respect and admiration for him.

The vacuum has been created by the performance of Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader in the Senate. Ordinarily a president could expect his party's Senate leader to carry the ball for him on foreign relations. Instead, Knowland has repeatedly differed with Eisenhower. The resulting impression is that the Republicans are split down the middle on foreign policy.

For example, Eisenhower has been trying to handle the Chinese Communists carefully, with restraint. George goes along with him. Knowland has been calling for a far more aggressive policy, even to the blockade of Red China.

Knowland felt it necessary to take a stand opposite Eisenhower's on the Yalta papers.

For a week the Republicans beat the Democrats over the head with the Yalta papers' account of the wartime Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting. Then Eisenhower stepped in. He said he opposed their use for political partisan advantage.

Promptly Knowland announced: "I don't agree with him. I intend to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it pertinent." Then, although he didn't say he opposed Eisenhower's re-election in 1956, he said he was against drafting him to run.

The President, who almost never issues a personal rebuke to any of his lieutenants, has been patient with Knowland while at the same time being patient with the Red Chinese, with whom Knowland is very impatient.

This week, for instance, Eisenhower again would not say whether the United States intended to defend the Matsu and Quemoy Islands. In this way he left the door open to the Red Chinese to talk about the islands peacefully.

George said he supports Eisenhower's position of vagueness. But Knowland this week was talking of a need to defend the islands. He's all for fighting for them, he said.

So, as time goes on, Eisenhower looks more and more to George as a major influence, and it's the major influence, on the White House side in the Senate on foreign affairs.

Injury Mishaps On The Increase

Traffic Accidents Are Discussed

Although traffic fatalities so far this year are below those of last year, in the county and state, enforcement officials are disturbed by the upward trend in personal injury and property damage traffic accidents.

Police Chief Vaiden Long says that quite a few communities show increases in accidents of this type, although traffic deaths are much less than a year ago.

So far not a single traffic fatality has occurred in Fayette County this year, although a year ago two of the 12 fatalities in the county during the year, occurred before April.

Ordinarily April has the best fatality record, averaging between 4 and 5 deaths per day, with a total often lower than February. But the month brings two significant changes in traffic accident pattern. Fatal injury of pedestrian cyclists and of juvenile pedestrians increase.

Accidents involving cyclists seldom are a problem until April. They remain so until October has passed. A fair percentage of these crashes would never occur if the youth operated his vehicle as the law provides.

Chief Long put heavy emphasis on the point that Ohio law puts the bicycle in the vehicle class. Like all other vehicles, bicycles must be operated on the right hand half of the roadway, as near as possible to the right hand curb or roadside.

THE RIDER is required to observe signs, traffic signals and markings the same as a motorist should. And bicycles ridden at night must have a headlamp and tail light each of which can be seen 500 feet.

It is a very dangerous practice to ride into the street from a driveway. Cyclist should stop before they pass the curb line, and not remount until they can see that the way is clear.

Most of the youth involved in pedestrian mishaps have been playing in the street, or have run into the street.

Chief Long had a word of warning for motorists too: remember, you have to think for children. It is too much to expect that youth will always do as it should. Adults—especially drivers—have to expect a youngster to pop from the hiding of a parked car; that one will dash wildly into the street in a chase

WASHINGTON (P)—The House yesterday passed a resolution congratulating Mount Vernon, Ohio, on its 150th birthday to be celebrated July 6-9.

Two from Here Attend Hearing

Support Is Given Incorporation Curbs

Walter Morrow, the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Area Development committee here, and Glen Allen, the Chamber secretary, today said they felt that legislation to control municipal incorporation was a step closer in the state Legislature.

They went to the Ohio Chamber of Commerce headquarters in Columbus Wednesday afternoon where they joined representatives of other Chambers in the state to study legislation that would place restrictions on the incorporation of municipalities.

They explained that their opposition to what they felt were loose laws governing municipal incorporation of municipalities in Ohio, thus took a positive and constructive approach, rather than negative and destructive.

They voiced their opposition to the present laws, which they said they felt left the way open for incorporation of uneconomical and financially sound municipalities, and threw their support behind

House Bill 89, which they said would provide needed restrictions, when they appeared at a House committee hearing in the state capitol building Wednesday night.

Morrow and Allen had been delegated by the board of directors of the Chamber here to appear before the committee. Allen was the spokesman.

Morrow and Allen said that "while we have no problems of this kind here, the Chamber directors felt the barn door should be locked before the horse gets out."

Washington C. H. was one of only two cities of the 10,000 to 20,000 population represented at the hearing. The other delegations were from larger cities.

Minorities Can Prove To Be Dynamite

How many of us whether we live in Washington C. H., Fayette County or elsewhere, fully realize what a few people, well organized, representing only a small minority of the public, can get done if they perseveringly and consistently stay with the job, of getting something done?

If such a minority is actually pushing something unselfishly for the public good, this usually works out for public betterment.

Dangerous and threatening however, are such minority groups which seek to undermine good government from cities to counties to states and even the nation. Equally hazardous, from the viewpoint of public welfare, are such groups if they seek to win thoughtless public support for a plan, a scheme, or a movement that relies upon an appeal to selfishness, rather than what is best for the greatest number of people.

Most of us really ought to learn more than we know about active minorities. They often sway the decisions of government, or plans of action by large organizations, in modern times.

Minorities organize easily for political purposes, not only because their numbers are few, but because they have few but very definite objectives. They want to get something for themselves or their proteges at the expense of the rest, or they seek to impose regulations suitable to their group on everyone else.

Their smallness, rather than being a disadvantage is actually helpful to minorities, the wails of the bleeding hearts notwithstanding. The very lack of a stature and numbers renders the general public tolerant and contemptuous. Minorities can pull all manner of tricky plays and most people remain smug, or indifferent.

The potency of the minority groups lies in their cohesion, their specialized training, if any is needed for their purposes, and, above all, the fact that they are so very vocal.

A handful can make themselves sound like a million when they want to lobby a bill through the Legislature or through Congress; a hard little nucleus can stampede a mob if its members know just when and how to strike. Minorities have demonstrated their talents for doing just that.

By no means are all minority pressure plays dangerous or undesirable. Our clubs and lodges, for instance, go to bat for worthy causes all the time. Their success at applying pressure, however, illustrates what minorities can accomplish.

For example, the communists have always been a minority. They have swept across half the world and are chewing away at the rest. Millions ruling billions.

Watch the loud, little busybody bunches. They're dynamite. Don't try to laugh them off.

Gen. Bradley -- No Erosion

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Life holds a busy serenity for Omar Nelson Bradley, who nearly ten years ago led American ground forces to victory in Europe.

At 62 the graying general of the Army, no longer assigned to active duty but still available to a bugle call, is holding down more jobs than at any time in his career.

The erosion of time has touched "Brad" but lightly. He is as erect as ever. He weighs 178 pounds, only five more than when he left West Point in 1915.

"But my wife, Mary, says I can't brag about that—the weight isn't in the same places," he said cheerfully.

The five-star general stepped down as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in August, 1953. He ended then the 12 tensest years of his life—four spent on the battlefield, eight in Washington as veterans administrator, Army chief of staff, and the nation's top military chieftain.

"I was glad to get out from under the pressure in Washington," Bradley recalled. "So was Mary. She shared the pressure. But I was afraid of a lei!"

There wasn't any letdown. After swearing in Adm. Bradford as his successor, Brad went out and played the best game of golf in his life. Three days later he reported for duty here as board chairman of the Bulova research and development laboratories.

In Europe Bradley directed the attack of 1,200,000 men, the largest force under a field commander in American history. Now he supervises 43 defense projects, many requiring precision craftsmanship on tiny arms, crafts and timing devices on secret guided missiles.

Summarizing the military picture today, Bradley said soberly: "We're not where we thought we'd be 10 years ago when the war ended. We had high hopes then of peace for a long time to come."

"But we have had to go on re-

arming for our own protection, since Russia won't disarm."

"I don't think many people today question the necessity of our going into the second world war and the Korean situation."

"Some even have advocated a preventive war against Russia. I don't think that would answer anything. We'd be doing ourselves the very thing we are trying to prevent—aggression."

"I'm afraid if we have an atomic war there might not be much of anything left."

To forge the great battle victories in Europe it fell to Bradley to give orders for missions that inevitably led thousands of men to death or injury. I asked him if he ever received any bitter letters.

"Never," he said quietly. And into his eyes crept a wish—the wish nobody ever would send him a bitter letter. Few men know the price of war better than Omar Nelson Bradley. No man could want another war less than he does today.

'Sense of History' Is Confusing

By George Sokolsky

The National Committee For An Effective Congress has issued a circular letter to a general mailing list, including persons who have always opposed it. It wants more money. The letter is signed by Oscar Hammerstein II who writes successful plays and Sidney H. Scherer, about whom I know nothing.

The circular letter speaks of a "know nothing group in Congress" which is supposed to be a term of opprobrium but is historically a synonym for nationalism. Why Mr. Hammerstein does not call these members of Congress nationalists, I cannot know, except perhaps that to do so would lose him contributors. There is still a strong grassroots nationalistic sentiment in the United States, albeit one must admit that it is not too strong in Washington or New York where internationalism thrives despite all.

Scherer, Messrs. Hammerstein and Scherer think that these nationalists combined with commentators, newspapers and organizations to grab "for the instruments of power, and set the political climate." These elected representatives of the people apparently did something wrong when they voted their consciences or according to the general attitude of their constituencies.

Then I must quote: "On the other hand, the responsible candidates, when they arrived on Capitol Hill, found that most of the outside organizations to which they looked for support and research were limited in scope to specific legislative goals, mostly economic and usually unattainable in the existing climate. Yet these good legislators were in a fight to defend our way of life, requiring a sense of history reaching beyond the slogans of economic groups."

I cannot tell you who the "responsible candidates" who arrived on Capitol Hill are because they are not listed, although I think the writers meant elected representatives. Have it as you will, what makes one group "responsible" and another group power-grabbers? The answer is that those who agree with the National Committee For An Effective Congress are "responsible" and everybody else is a bum. You can turn that idea versa and come up with the same degree of truth.

The next sentence in this quoted paragraph I don't understand at all. Who are "these good legislators"? Is, for instance, Senator Flanders a good legislator because he read a speech that this committee prepared for him? Is Senator Dirksen a bad legislator because he did not read such a speech? Look at the record and the goodness or badness or neither is so clearly definable.

And what is meant by "a sense of history reaching beyond the slogans of economic groups"? What are these economic groups? Take, for instance, H. R. 1, the Tariff Act, which is supported by Henry Ford II and Walter Reuther, one representing ownership and management and the other the labor union—both in the same industry. Although they divide on the question of the annual wage, they unite on H. R. 1 on a free trade tariff. Where is the clear-cut economic grouping? And what are their slogans? And wherein do they lack a sense of history? And why are we to believe that Messrs. Hammerstein and Scherer have a more acute sense of history? The letter does not say.

Here is another one of those curious phrases:

"Now, after the censure of McCarthy, the momentary decline of the know-nothings leaves a political vacuum."

Firstly, McCarthy was not censured.

Secondly, if what these gentlemen call know-nothingism and what actually is nationalism has so declined that it leaves a political vacuum, the National Committee For An Effective Congress has won a great victory. It has done its work. It should now go out of existence having saved the United States from the plague of nationalism. Even a doctor quits when the patient is cured. But no! This committee would fill that vacuum—that is the vacuum created by the decline of nationalism. There is no vacuum among the internationalists.

Nevertheless, this organization wants more money to provide members of Congress with their services "... whether it involves a request for a lawyer with the qualifications and time to undertake a particular study, or the provision of a typist who can help prepare necessary documents—requires a constant application of skilled man-hours."

It is an interesting appeal. If they had asked me for a contribution, I would send mine to the Damon Runyon Fund or to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Advancement. Today's child will be frank, sincere, industrious and reliable, so success seems certain.

Diet and Health

Change Baby's Diet To Aid Constipation

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Sometimes a simple change in diet is enough to overcome a baby's constipation. If it isn't, call your doctor and get his advice on what to do.

I can't recommend flat procedures to follow because the circumstances involving your baby might be entirely different from those in another case.

Using Mineral Oil

Your doctor might suggest giving your baby mineral oil. This does not act as a laxative, however. It merely softens his bowel movements and lubricates the passage to provide for an easy discharge.

I think you will usually find that one or two spoonfuls are enough. Give them to him at bedtime.

Never Force Baby

Don't, however, give the baby any mineral oil if he is crying. In fact, never force him to take it. He might breathe the oil into his lungs, which could cause a serious case of pneumonia.

As your child's bowel movements become more normal, cut down on the amount of mineral oil. Stop the doses entirely when he is regular once again.

Old-Fashioned Idea

The idea that you should give your baby a laxative just to clean him out once in a while is old-fashioned. Don't do it. And don't give laxatives if he has a pain in his abdomen or if his abdomen is tender.

Your doctor might also advise giving the baby an enema or suppository.

Preparing an Enema

If you give him an enema, use either plain water or water containing a small amount of salt. To prepare the mixture, use one level teaspoonful of table salt to a pint of lukewarm water.

The Right Amount

For a baby under six months of age, half a glassful is enough. One glassful can be used for an older baby.

Should your doctor suggest a suppository, you can purchase infant glycerin suppositories at any drug store. If it's late at night, or if there is any other reason you can't buy one when needed, you can use a greased syringe, nozzle, or you can make a suppository from a bar of soap.

Use Mild Soap

To make one, take a used cake of mild soap, like castile, and cut off a piece two inches long. Use soap is less likely to break when you begin whittling. Cut it down until it is about one-fourth of an inch across. That's about the size of your baby's little finger. Make one end narrower than the other, and round it off until it is perfectly smooth.

Place the small end of the suppository about two-thirds of its length into the baby's rectum. Hold onto the other end, of course.

If this doesn't stimulate bowel action within five minutes, remove it. Then you'll have to try thing else. Maybe an enema.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. R. H.: What causes burning of the rectum after having a bowel movement?

Answer: Burning of the rectum may occur because of excessive acidity of the bowel movement, which could come from some type of bowel infection.

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Some youngsters in Ohio County tentatively scheduled to receive the Salk polio vaccine in April apparently have found what they think is a way to escape the dreaded needle.

Clemm said, "Evidently in some cases the children either feared the inoculation or lost the paper and said nothing about it at home." He said the matter was called to his attention by queries from parents.

Modern Holy Week Message

By EUGENE CARSON BLAKE
President, National Council of Churches
Some people avoid religion because they are afraid that they will be unpopular with the crowd if they appear too pious. Others go to church for no better reason than that they think it is the thing to do to make them popular.

Palm Sunday is the day when the crowds were all cheering for Jesus as He rode a donkey toward Jerusalem. A few days later the same crowd were shouting "Crucify Him," "Crucify Him."

One thing this proves: it is foolish to live your life according to what you think will make you popular. Do what you believe God wants you to do and you will feel right inside whether the crowd cheers or jeers.

MANY PEOPLE justify themselves by saying "I am religious but I have no use for the Churches." Monday of Holy Week is the day on which Jesus went into the temple at Jerusalem and drove out those who were selling and buying there, even turning the tables of the money changers, saying as He did it, "It is written 'My house shall be called a house of prayer, but you make it a den of robbers.'"

Now if you really think that the churches of today have become dens of robbers, you ought to do something about it as Jesus did. But if you are just protecting yourself and your pocketbook by criticizing the generally good men who are responsible for the Churches, don't think you are fooling anybody, least of all God.

STRANGELY enough, most Americans prove that ours is an essentially irreligious age because they judge the Church by the standards of Americanism rather than judging all human governments by the standards of God that they should learn in their churches. Jesus was standing in the courtyard of the temple in Jerusalem on one of the days of the first

Holy Week. His enemies asked Him an embarrassing question and in front of the crowd. "Is it right for us to pay Rome taxes, or not?" Whatever He answered would likely get Him in trouble. If He said "yes" the anti-Roman crowd would turn against Him. If He said "no," He would be arrested as a subversive revolutionary.

"Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," said Jesus "Render unto God the things that are God's," as He pointed to a coin with Caesar's name upon it. So Christians have always known that true religion gives no man an excuse to be a disloyal citizen. But this does not mean that you ought to suppose the government is God. A good government greatly needs people who believe so much in God that neither state nor church dares invade their rights or freedoms.

SOME PEOPLE really think that God loves Americans and nobody else. Do you?
One day on the last week of Jesus' life, some Greek people, foreigners, wanted to talk to Him. There was a big crowd around and they had a hard time getting near enough finally to hear him say, "If any one serves Me, he must follow Me; and where I am, there shall My servant be also; if any one serves Me, the Father will honor him."

Twice He says to you and me: "if any one" There are no distinctions of race or class or nation in Jesus' kingdom. The new aristocracy of God's house which you may join requires you to follow Jesus who chose to be a servant.

SOME MINISTERS are rightly praised because they make religion plain and simple. Do this and this and this and this and you will be saved, they say. But these same ministers are sometimes rightly criticized for making religion simpler than it is.
Even Jesus, the clearest religious teacher who ever taught, could not put everything about God in simple words. The Thursday of Holy Week is remembered as the night on which He gathered in the upper room with his followers, broke bread for them, and offered them a cup for the first communion service.

Christianity is much more than the clearest Christian teaching. If you want to be saved, never forget that most men and women have found the grace of God in the holy sacrament in their church.

A YOUNG WOMAN was talking to her pastor about her marriage and the divorce she was considering. The pastor was cautioning her until she blurted out, "You want me to be happy, don't you?" Of course he did, but the question was whether happiness is the only or chief purpose or value of life.

Good Friday is remembered as the day when Jesus was crucified upon a cross. If you are aiming for happiness and nothing else or more, you will never understand anything about Christianity and the cross which is its central symbol. Happiness is good. God loves his children and wants you to be happy. But the cross reminds us all that the twine of life has twisted in it a thread of suffering which, while not good, is made good for those who will do what is right even though they suffer. Pain which you freely accept for those whom you love is the way to become like Christ who died for you.

SOME PEOPLE pride themselves on not being joiners. They belong to no club, nor church, nor group of any kind, or if they join they hold themselves so much apart that they really belong to nobody.
On the day when Jesus was crucified, his friends were afraid, confused, and disappointed. If they had not been together in their sorrow, they would have been lost. They were a fellowship that even survived their tragic loss. When He appeared again, it was to them together.

If you think that you can live your life apart and aloof from others, you will find that fear unshared is hardly joy, and that fear or sorrow shared is not only bearable but that is the way Saints are made.

THE RABBIT and the egg have almost become the symbols of Easter. The rabbit and the egg remind us that life is fertile and that every winter has its spring. This has something to do with Easter, but not very much.

The Christian Easter is symbolized by an empty grave, an open tomb. Resurrection is more than renewal of life, more than immortality.

If you want to lose your fear of death, forget rabbits and eggs, and behold the risen Christ.

Club Members Include Guests At Meeting

Several guests were included at the regular meeting of the Concord Home Demonstration Club held at the home of Mrs. Dale Wilson, Thursday at an all day meeting.

The making of wood fibre flowers was the project for the morning session under the supervision of Mrs. Warren Hicks and Mrs. Joe Palmer, who were assisted by Mrs. John Dial and Mrs. Willard Bloomer.

A sandwich, salad and dessert luncheon was enjoyed at the noon hour, at one large table and smaller tables each centered with arrangements of wood fibre flowers made by the hostess.

A short business meeting was held following the luncheon hour and Mrs. Orville Bush, leader, appointed Mrs. Robert Case, Miss Arbana Roush, Mrs. Maurice Sollars and Mrs. Kenneth Bush to represent the club in entries at the annual Achievement Day, April 6, at the Dayton Power and Light Company club room.

Mrs. Edgar Wilson, Mrs. Lorain Morter, Mrs. Maurice Sollars, and Mrs. Robert Case were also appointed to be in charge of the cookie arrangement at the meeting.

Easter Lily Sale Saturday To Aid Hundreds Like Eddie

On Saturday, scores of children will be selling tiny paper replicas of Easter lilies in the business section of Washington C. H. These little paper flowers are more than decoration.

The money you contribute to pay for your Easter lily will help some crippled child walk.

Every cent that goes into the collection cans on Saturday will go toward medical aid for crippled children or toward research that will enable the Society for Crippled Children to offer still more effective aid in the future.

Dimes and dollars contributed toward the Society last year helped one young sufferer from cerebral palsy to take his first steps.

The boy is Paul Eddie Chamblin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Chamblin of the Greenfield Road. Last year, the Record-Herald photographer visited the Chamblin home and found Eddie, a plucky five-year-old, had recently learned to stand alone.

He had been fitted with braces and special shoes, and given a pair of crutches by the Society. But Eddie was still entirely unable to walk.

On January 17, Eddie took his first step unaided. It was the biggest day in the lives of his parents, Mrs. Chamblin says now.

When the Record-Herald photographer paid another visit to the Chamblin home this year, Eddie could take as many as five steps without help. He demonstrated his new skill for the camera.

BUT THOSE five steps represented a staggering cost; in money to the Society, in toll for Mrs. Ruth Wientjes of the Health Department, and in struggle for Eddie and his parents.

Mrs. Wientjes has visited the Chamblin home once or twice a month, Mrs. Chamblin says. Every three months, Eddie is given a thorough going-over in the hospital. And frequently, because Eddie is a fast growing boy, the braces on his body and legs, the special shoes he wears and his crutches must be changed.

All this costs money. A recent alteration in Eddie's leg braces and the substitution of a corset for a body brace cost $97, for example. "I know," says Mrs. Chamblin. "I signed the bill. And I heaved a sigh of relief when I thought of how hard it would be to pay that bill, and all the others I just sign."

But despite the cost, Eddie's five steps are the most precious in the world to his parents—and to him. "He thinks he's doing something wonderful," says Mrs. Chamblin. "And he is! He never used to smile or laugh much, but now he does it often. And he's singing all the time."

The road from five steps to a hundred will be difficult for Eddie. But he has the courage he needs, if he can continue to get the medical help he must have. Will you help him take those hundred steps?

In 1954, U. S. Pacific Coast states increased their population by 3.7 per cent or approximately double the national rate.

Gl's Assured Of Hike In Their Wages

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 1,700,000 members of the armed forces were virtually assured today of a pay raise starting tomorrow.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he expects President Eisenhower to sign during the day a bill rushed to him by Congress late yesterday.

Carrying out an administration request, it will aid primarily career servicemen.

The Senate passed the bill by voice vote after about an hour of discussion yesterday. The House, which had OK'd it earlier, accepted by voice vote some minor Senate changes.

The pay raise averages 12 per cent for career service personnel. It is estimated to cost $750 million yearly. With a few exceptions, the measure provides only for raises in base pay, and in hazard bonuses for such specialists as submariners, divers, paratroopers and demolition experts.

Personnel in the lower grades would receive the largest percentage boost. Not counting food and quarters allowances, the pay boost averages out to 13 per cent for officers and 11.7 per cent for enlisted men. To benefit, officers must have three years of service and enlisted men and warrant officers two.

Railroad Boosts Piggy-Back Service

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Piggy-back" service in hauling truck trailers has increased each month since it was started last July on the Nickel Plate Railroad. Studies are being made to expand the service, L. L. White said in an annual report to stockholders today.

White reported Nickel Plate's traffic volume last year was below 1953 and profit last year was $14,460,872, or $6.05 a share, compared with $17,866,796, or $7.70 a share in 1953. White predicted a pickup in the road's traffic this year.

4 County High Schools Set Baseball Tourney For Openers Next Week

That belated blast of winter last week upset the Fayette County high school baseball schedule, but it definitely did not stop the sport.

The first games of a double-elimination tournament was originally slated for Friday (this afternoon), but the opening was postponed by general agreement because the coaches felt the boys had not been able to get in enough practice.

So, the curtain raisers were rescheduled for Monday, but now there was a possibility that they might be postponed again. However, the second postponement was by no means a certainty; the final decision probably will be made over the weekend after the weather forecasts are studied.

For the first time in several years all four high schools in the county are going to field baseball teams and revive the sport with the full treatment.

In the drawings for the tournament, in which a team stays in the running until it loses two games, were the same as those for the basketball tournament.

That means that Jeffersonville's Tigers will go to Bloomingburg to tangle with the Bulldogs and the Warriors of Madison Mills will go to Good Hope to meet the Mad Anthons for the tournament openers.

Squads of all four schools have been limbering up at every chance they get, but at that they have been restricted to the gymnasiums for much of it.

They have been taking full advantage of these last few bright days to get out in the field; besides sharpening up their batting eyes, the outfield candidates have been chasing flies and the infielders have been coordinating their reflexes to handle those hot grounders.

Vejar Favored To Top Graham

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Young, ambitious Chico Vejar has another 10-round date tonight with Billy Graham, the ring veteran who once almost had within his grasp the world welterweight championship.

The bout will be telecast and broadcast by NBC at 10 p.m. EST. Graham had retirement in mind before he met Vejar March 4 in Madison Square Garden.

Chico won that one, in a split decision, but Graham decided he wanted more. He says he's in top shape for this one, but Vejar's youth and speed make him an 8-5 favorite.

Ohio Entries Gain Notice In ABC

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — The Woodward Sheriff team from Akron, Ohio, yesterday rolled 2,887 to take sixth place in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

In all-events competition, Webby Anderson of Canton, Ohio, took 10th position with 1,830.

Jeffersonville Workout Called

Baseball Activities Under Way Here Again

These last few bright days, coming after a wintry blast, have put baseball right up in the forefront of the sports picture here.

Tommy Smalley, the headman of last year's Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League and the team that share allegiance between Washington C. H. and Good Hope, has started laying the framework for what he hopes will be an 8-team circuit for the coming season.

He has been sending out letters to the baseball leaders in half a dozen towns in this area inviting them to consider entering teams in the SWO this season. Up to now, he has not had an overwhelming response, he admits, but that, too, can be blamed on the weather that chilled baseball thoughts along with everything else.

But as Jeffersonville, things are humming.

BOB HILDRETH, the high school coach, who agreed to serve as the manager of the town's team last season, has called for a workout of the boys on last year's team, plus any others who may be interested.

The high school field is to be used and the session is slated for 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Hildreth said he hoped all of last year's squad still around here would be back and added that he thought it would.

There are two places to be filled however: Two regulars, Clark Coe and Dale Coppock are now in the army. Both were infielders and right hitters. Coppock also did some pitching. If Hildreth has anyone in mind to take over for them, he has not given so much as a hint to their identity.

The Jeffersonville aggregation was the hot team in these parts last year. It finished the season with a record of 23 victories against only 3 losses.

Akron Now Facing Transit Walkout

AKRON — With a transit strike scheduled for tonight at midnight, negotiators for the Akron Transportation Co. and its two unions are in around-the-clock sessions with Mayor Leo A. Berg.

The bus drivers want a 10-cent-an-hour boost to $1.80 an hour, and the mechanics want a 30 cent boost to their present $1.90 an hour. The company wants to cut both seven cents an hour.

Factory Expanding

CLEVELAND — The National Screw & Manufacturing Co. has purchased a 265,000 - square - foot building adjacent to its main plant in Cleveland. The building was sold by the National City Bank of Cleveland for an undisclosed sum.

DeMarco Set For Meeting With Saxton

BOSTON — Tony DeMarco's chances of winning the welterweight boxing title from champion Johnny Saxton tonight depend largely on whether the local slugger can prove he's not a bleeder.

The healed knot of cartilage over DeMarco's left eye and the chin's sparmate cut last December could be decisive in the 15-round battle for the 147-pound crown.

The Boston Garden fight will not be televised or broadcast.

DeMarco, No. 3 challenger, has escaped eye cuts in his last five bouts covering 32 rounds. But in his warmups for a scheduled December meeting with Joe Miceli, he was gashed along his chin and the fight was canceled.

Since then he's had a 10-round non-title draw with lightweight champion Jimmy Carter, from which he escaped unscathed.

It will be the first title defense for Saxton, the 24-year-old New York Negro, since winning the championship from Kid Gavilan in Philadelphia last October. His two intervening engagements were a split decision over Ramon Fuentes and a loss to Middleweight Ron Delaney.

Odds ranged from 12-5 to 2-1 on the champion only a week after they had been 6-5 and pick 'em.

Congressmen Set For Baseball Prep

WASHINGTON — Congress members are ready to take up where major leaguers left off in Florida spring baseball training.

Sixty-two members who hope to play in the annual game between Democrats and Republicans move into Daytona Beach, Fla., this weekend for six days of practice during the Easter recess of Congress. The game will be played in Washington June 7.

The game is a five-inning affair, played in Griffith Stadium, home of the Washington Senators of the American League. The Republicans never have won.

Haas, Maxwell Leading Azalea

WILMINGTON, N. C. — Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, scored 35-34-69, and Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, tallied 35-35-70, in yesterday's opening round of the $12,500 Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

Fred Haas Jr., Claremont, Calif., and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., tied for the lead at 65 each after the first 18 holes.

Ohio Horse Racing Season Opening

AKRON — Horse racing starts today at nearby Ascot Park, the earliest opening day in Ohio racing history.

Ascot, with a new owner, new tote board, new officials and new horses, starts a 44-day meet with eight races featuring the inaugural handicap with $1,500 for 3-year-olds and older over 6 1/2 furlongs.

The track's new proprietor is Horace Adams of Cleveland, who controls a string of movie theaters and is making his first venture into racing. He paid $1,300,000 for Ascot last year.

Canada Girl Cancels Swim Plans

VICTORIA, B. C. — Eighteen-year-old Janice White, of Toronto, has canceled plans to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca between here and Port Angeles Wash.

Unrelenting winds and the menace of a new storm crowding in from the Pacific led her last night to abandon the try at crossing the cold channel which defeated Florence Chadwick last August.

She has been trying for three days to start the 18-mile - plus splash from Canada to the U. S.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

Strawberry Planting Systems

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Distributed by Central Press Association

IF YOU are planning to grow
strawberries for the first time
this year, set out the plants as soon as the soil can be properly worked.

You can grow them by the matted-row system. This calls for setting plants at intervals of 18 to 30 inches in rows. The rows should be spaced three to four feet apart. Then allow runners
to form a mat of each row.

If you want berries of large size and excellent quality, use the hill system shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. This system requires a little more work
than the matted-row system and
for that reason is not used by the commercial planters. Space rows

two to three feet apart, as illustrated. Set plants 12 to 15 inches apart in the rows. Do not allow runners to develop.

The hedgerow system, illustrated, is another that may be used to good advantage by home gardeners. Space rows three feet apart, as illustrated. Set plants 24 inches apart. Then allow each plant to produce two runners,
which will then leave the growing
plants approximately eight inches
apart in the row.

The soil for a strawberry planting should be moderately fertile,
well drained and contain enough
humus to retain moisture. Soils that lack humus should have rotted manure added before the berries are planted.

Economists and labor relations
specialists from Indiana, Illinois,
Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and
Kentucky will attend.

First Service At New Church Easter Morning

Original Plans For
St. Andrews Opening
Have to be Changed

Easter Day will mark the opening of the new St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, located on the Greenfield Road just beyond the Country Club, the Rev. Sanford Lindsey, rector, said.

The new church and parish house are in the final stages of construction and it was originally hoped to be in the church itself by Palm Sunday. Delays in the manufacture of carpeting and special chandeliers made it necessary to delay the first service until Easter.

The church itself, of colonial style, will seat about 300 and is characterized by several features once generally accepted in most church buildings.

The altar stands free in the midst of a very spacious sanctuary, with the communion rail extending around three sides. The chancel contains only two pews for acolytes, and the lectern and pulpit stand free also.

The new pipe organ, secured last fall and installed by Karl Kay, is located in the balcony in the back of the church, along with the choir. The great walnut polychromed cross, six feet in height, will hang down from the Gothic roof beams directly over the altar.

THE ALTAR GUILD, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Willett, has made by hand a full frontal and super-frontal (brocade and metallic gold motifs which hang the full length of the altar) as well as the lectern and pulpit antependia and two fair linen cloths. The altar of solid walnut 80 by 36 inches along with the great cross was made from a single walnut log cut by Felix Halliday for this purpose, Rev. Lindsey revealed.

It will be an especially meaningful service of Holy Communion on Easter morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Lindsey said, since the church has been built by Robert Lisk, a contractor and Junior Warden of the parish.

Lisk and his associates, assisted by many of the men and boys of the parish, have built all the furnishings for the church with the exception of the lectern top, which was brought from the old church on East Street for reasons for sentiment.

Washington C. H. people, who have been so generous and helpful in the building of this new church, will be cordially welcomed at any time to inspect the Church or join with the congregation in worship.

Rev. Lindsey is priest-in-charge and the Rev. John Carson, the assistant.

Cub Scout Pack 303 Begins Second Year

Members of the Milledgeville Cub Scout Pack 303 marked the beginning of their pack's second year at a meeting Thursday evening at the Milledgeville School.

Charles Hiser, the cubmaster, gave each member a re-registration card, signifying the close of the pack's first year and the beginning of its second.

The youngsters and their leaders laid plans for an advancement ceremony to be held at the next meeting on April 28. Three of the boys have reached the maximum age for Cubs and will be advanced into the ranks of Boy Scouts.

After the den mother, Mrs. Robert Creamer, read the treasurer's report, her husband took over the showing of a pair of movies, "Paul Bunyan" and "Man on the Land." The first told the story of logging, from the forest through to newspaper print like the paper on which the Record-Herald is printed. The second underscored the lessons taught by conservation practices.

Tommy McDonald, Johnny Minton and J. P. Morgan led the games.

Refreshments, Easter molds of ice cream and Easter cupcakes, were served by Mrs. Charles Hiser, Mrs. Edwara Rankin and Mrs. Fred Bitzer.

Talk Is Given On Anesthetics

Two Are Inducted Into Sympsiarch

Dr. Marvin Roszmann told the Sympsiarch meeting here Thursday night that if he could convince people going into surgery that it would be better for them to let their own physician, the surgeon and the anesthetist decide what anesthetic would be best he would feel he had accomplished something worthwhile.

Dr. Roszmann, a physician who has specialized in anesthesia and administers most of the anesthetics at Memorial Hospital here, was the principal speaker of the meeting's after-dinner program at the Country Club.

Using terms that were readily understandable by laymen in his audience, Dr. Roszmann described a half dozen different types of anesthetics; he told how they are administered, the patient reaction and the good features of each. In saying the decision on which type of anesthetic should be used should be left to the doctors, Dr. Roszmann pointed out that some reacted adversely on the heart, others affected the respiratory system and others the blood. A knowledge of the patient and his, or her, physical weaknesses, he said guided the doctors in determining the anesthetic to be used.

When he finished, the interest of the group had been so stimulated that he was kept answering questions for another half hour.

He was introduced by a fellow physician, Dr. James Rose, who gave some of the highlights of his personal background and training for the medical profession.

HUGH B. SOLLARS the president of the chapter, presided at the business session at which the coming national Sympsiarch convention at Columbus April 15-16 was discussed at length.

After a show of hands indicated that between 20 and 25 members of the chapter here planned to attend, a suggestion that the chapter set up headquarters in the Desher-Hilton Hotel was given unanimous approval.

It was brought out that this was

A "Tom Thumb Wedding" will be a feature of the program the youngsters of the first six grades will put on for the Wayne PTO Monday evening.

Members who've never seen Tom Thumb married will have their chance at the meeting slated to star at 8 P. M. in the school gym. The ceremony will be a mock wedding, of course, with the bride, groom, minister and all the super-numeraries played by the youngsters.

In charge of the program will be the teachers: Mrs. Dale Eakins, Mrs. Eugene Frazer, Mrs. Willard Judy, Mrs. Emerald Sollars and Mrs. Earl Deering. An Easter theme will be used in the kids show.

On the refreshment committee for meeting will be Mrs. Lawrence Hoppes, Mrs. Theodore Knisley, Mrs. Eddie Hoskins, Mrs. Robert Newell, Mrs. Ray Warner and John Craig.

the customary practice by most chapters at national conventions.

Joseph Campbell heads the committee that is to canvass the membership and make reservations. Belford F. Carpenter is the national vice president.

The chapter also instructed President Sollars, who also is the official delegate, to extend an invitation to the convention to meet in Washington C. H. next year. The national convention was held here four years ago with around 75 delegates.

Two new members were formally inducted at the start of the business session with a short ceremony. They were George Baker, Beta Theta Pi from Denison University, and Elmer Reed, Phi Gamma Delta from Washington and Jefferson University.

Hosts for this meeting were Harford Hanks, Dr. Hugh Payton and Dr. Fred D. Woollard.

Mother Is Awarded Custody of Child

In a lengthy decision in the habeas corpus proceedings filed March 21 in common pleas court by Howard Runnels and Betty Runnels to obtain custody of their child, Norma Jean Runnels, from Arthur Dillon, maternal grandfather of the child, Judge John P. Case has awarded custody of the child to the mother, Betty Runnels.

At a hearing of the habeas corpus proceedings soon after they were filed, Judge Case gave temporary custody of the child to the parents.

The decision mentions various criminal charges filed against Howard Runnels, two of which were never completed or dismissed in probate court two or three years ago.

In his decision Judge Case points out that failure of the lower court to complete the proceedings two or three years ago has proven a handicap in dealing with the present situation.

Hayride Planned By Junior Leaders

A hayride and wiener roast was planned for its next meeting, April 14, by the Junior Leadership Club at its regular meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Members are to gather at the home of Roger Gorman at 7:30 P. M. and bring their own wieners and buns.

Karma Kay Knox, the resident, conducted the meeting and Roger Bonham led the group in repeating the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Albert G. Cobb, the associate county agent, reviewed the good grooming clinic that was held this week in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium, and outlined plans for the advisors conference that is to be held April 11.

Darwin Bryan is to be a guest of the club at its April 28 meeting. Following adjournment of the meeting, there was square dancing and finally refreshments.

The loot runs all the way from auto accessories to a radio and other valuable property.

Unceasing War on a World of Killers

★ Leeuwenhoek, in 1683, was the first to disturb the privacy of the teeming bustle of the unseen world. The "wretched wee beasties" cavorting innocently under his lens were later indicted and convicted by Koch and Pasteur. Unbeknown to Leeuwenhoek, he had discovered a vicious and unseen world of killers, now known as bacteria, or germs.

The span of time between Leeuwenhoek and Pasteur was almost 200 years. Only an average lifetime has passed since Pasteur's experiments, during which practically all we know about disease and its treatment has been discovered. April Fool's Day Jokes Fading into Memories? Date Back to Antiquity

By N. E. BYRNE
(Central Press Association)
What's happened to the old-fashioned April Fool joke?
Has it, too, vanished into the limbo of the lost like the St. Louis Browns, the celluloid collar, the five-cent cup of coffee and other items which once seemed such permanent parts of the American scene?

Let's hope not. However, it has been ages since we last saw a really good April Fool joke being perpetrated on some gullible citizen.

It's been years now since we last heard of a trusting office boy being sent after a paper-stretcher, a left-handed monkey wrench or a can of polka-dot paint. And what's become of that once perennial telephone memo that a Mr. Fox wished us to call him at a certain number (the city zoo, of course)?
Who can remember when he last saw what looked like a well-filled wallet lying innocently on the sidewalk—but with a treacherous string attached? And the battered, old hat which cunningly concealed a toe-fracturing brick—let's hope, too, has disappeared, even from the comic strips.

Maybe the H-bomb menace had made us a less prank-appreciating generation. However, no matter what's the cause—the April Fool joke isn't what it used to be in a gayer, happier day.

The old-fashioned April Fool joke, while it came to its full flowering in these United States, actually dated back to antiquity.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

In all probability the native Americans (Indians) were smoking tobacco in their stone pipes thousands of years before tobacco was introduced in Europe by a Spanish doctor in 1558, nearly 400 years ago.

Tobacco is native to America and had to be introduced into Europe and elsewhere, the British receiving their first taste of the weed from Sir Walter Raleigh in 1586.

The Indians found tobacco growing wild and had been smoking the dried leaves for a long, long time before white man came to the Western Hemisphere.

While the Indians found tobacco growing wild, the better type of the weed which is most grown today came from South America. It is known as nicotiana tabacum. The natives in the West Indies also were found to be smoking tobacco and inhaling the smoke through their nostrils.

Wild tobacco still grows in America; I have seen it growing in the hill areas of southern and south-eastern Ohio.

Many of the stone pipes used by the aborigines have been found in Fayette County and while some of them have been carved from slate others of them have been fashioned from hard glacial stones which were brought here by the ice sheet 12,000 to 40,000 years ago.

Some of the stone pipes weighed several pounds and many of them were skillfully carved to represent animals, birds and even human beings.

I am glad these wonderful mementoes of the stone age race are now being preserved for posterity.

Farm Bureau Tax Hike Plan Received Coldly

Ohio Senate Chieftain Dead Set Against Any New Revenue Measures

COLUMBUS (AP)—Farmer insistence on new state taxes for expanded school, mental health and agricultural programs appeared headed today towards a legislative stone wall.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation told lawmakers by letter that five sources of additional revenue offered a potential yield of $100 million more a year.

After listing the sources according to preference, the federation termed them "stop-gap" measures and called for creation of a commission to make a two-year study of Ohio's tax structure.

The proposals hit the Legislature shortly after Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) asserted he "had the votes" to block any new taxes this session.

Although Mechem described himself as "just a farm boy," the Senate has come to be regarded as city-minded and more liberal on tax matters than the predominantly rural House.

BUT THIS session, the position of the two houses appears reversed. House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) and his lieutenants have declared against new taxes but evinced a disposition to accept them if necessary.

Not so Mechem. The tax developments occurred while the House Finance Committee struggled to wring from Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche's record-high $931½ million budget enough money for needed programs.

Farm Bureau Federation tax suggestions listed in the order of preference were:

1. Cent-a-pack increase in cigarette taxes to raise $10 million more.
2. Additional $1.50-a-gallon tax on liquor for an extra $15 million.
3. Extra $5 million from tax on state-sanctioned race track betting.
4. Return of one-cent sales tax on nine to 40-cent retail purchases for $10 million more.
5. Boost the maximum tax on out-of-state purchases for use in Ohio from three per cent to four per cent for $60 million more.

The federation also cited pending proposals for a severance tax on minerals taken from the earth and to give counties power to levy income taxes.

ANOTHER proposal would boost the intangible levy on bank deposits (Please turn to page two)

Deaf Mute Given Life Sentence

Judge Edward Blythin sentenced him after a jury found him guilty and did not recommend mercy. Large will be eligible for parole in 10 years.

Filibuster Record Claimed But Old Champ Hollers Foul

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A talker Texan, member of the state senate, claimed a new filibuster record today, but the old champion hollered foul.

Sen. Wayne Wagonseller of Bowie talked (with help) for 28 hours and 6 minutes in an effort to prevent a cut in state motor bus registration fees.

But the old filibuster king, Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton claimed a foul. Phillips was forced to stand erect last week when he set what he claimed was a national record by talking 23 hours and 35 minutes in support of more charity beds for a hospital in Galveston.

"If they'd let me do like he did," said Phillips, "I coulda talked all summer."

Wagonseller's leg was shot up during World War II. Senate rules were relaxed enough to permit him to lean or sit on his desk during much of the questioning.

Whether Wagonseller's effort

Ike Says Soviets Don't Want War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was described today as believing Russia does not want to fight a major war now, nor support one.

A highly placed senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said a reply of that nature was given when the question of Russia's intentions was raised at yesterday's White House conference of Senate leaders with the President and Secretary of State Dulles.

The Washington Post and Times-Herald said Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) represented Eisenhower as telling the conference he did not think Russia would back up Red China in an attack on the Chinese Nationalist-held Quemoy and Matsu islands, just off the Chinese mainland.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said the senators were told Eisenhower had made no decision on whether the United States will help the Chinese Nationalists defend the coastal islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Senate Votes Approval To German Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today approved the German rearmament treaties by an overwhelming vote.

The rollcall tally was 76-2, with Sens. Langer (R-ND) and Malone (R-Nev) voting against.

The twin pacts, which Secretary of State Dulles said will give West European unity an "irreversible reality," give sovereignty to the Republic of West Germany, bring her into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and provide for a brand new 12-division German army.

The Foreign Relations Committee recommended approval yesterday 14-1. Sen. Langer (R-ND), voting "no," said, "These treaties are just a repetition of the World War I Versailles Treaty. They are courting a future war."

Langer took particular exception to the new rearmament agreement on the Saar Basin, which binds that coal-rich area economically to France. The Saar agreement does not require U. S. OK.

"The Germans had the Saar for 1,000 years," Langer said. One of the pacts would end the formal occupation of West Germany by the United States, Britain and France. Germany could build a 12-division army, a small coastal navy and an air force under rigid restrictions.

THE OTHER treaty would bring West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member.

The treaties have already been approved by both the French and the Germans, and by most other nations concerned. Only Denmark, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg have not finally acted.

George opened debate of the two treaties. He said the pacts also would contribute to the unification of Germany.

"It is unthinkable that we should now refuse to ratify them or that we should unduly prolong the debate," George said, adding:

"I am convinced that we improve the chances for the unification of Germany. We improve the chances for a Big Four or Big Five meeting that will produce something more constructive and helpful than stalemate and propaganda," George said.

The Georgia Democrat noted "genuine concern" among some persons' lest these agreements should open the way for a resurgence of German militarism." He told the senate:

"In my judgment, there are practicable, workable safeguards against such an eventuality . . . in the limitations which West Germany has accepted with respect to its own rearmament, and in the nature of the cooperative effort which will be put forth under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Minster Man's Death Accidental

WAPAKONETA (AP)—Dr. R. H. Schaefer has ruled accidental the death of Henry J. Wendelin, 56, of Minster.

Wendelin's body was found Wednesday night at the G. S. Wintzer rendering plant where he worked. The coroner said he received a skull fracture from a fall or bump,

In the background is Mrs. Walter F. George, wife of the chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee. Mrs. Eisenhower was wearing the green print taffeta when another guest, Mrs. Durrie Crane, showed up wearing a nearly identical creation. Said the First Lady, "Oh, you've got the same dress on. I just love it. Don't you?" Replied Mrs. Crane, "I hope I look one-third as nice in mine as you do in yours." (International Soundphoto)

Band Is Applauded In Spring Concert

Another success today had been written into the records by the Washington C. H. High School band as evidenced by the thunderous applause that was accorded every one of the 14 numbers on the program of the annual Spring concert Thursday night.

The band is to present the same concert a second time Friday night.

The oft-repeated applause that marked the evening started when William B. Clift, the school's music director, took his place on the podium while the band sat at rigid attention.

As has come to be a fixed custom, the concert was opened with a march, "The Pride of the Marines."

Then came the first of several classics, a piece which the band handled with the expertise of a professional organization. It was "The Royal Fireworks Music," written by Handel in 1749 and played in three parts by the WHS band in 1955—Bourée, an old part of the Fireworks music, Minuet, the dance of little steps, and Allegro, which means the rejoicing.

In "Tournament of Trumpets" a trumpet quartet of Bonnie Knisley, Webb Ellis, Dale Fent and Douglas Rider, took the featured part against background music by the entire band.

For the "Green Meadows Overture," the band presented the care-free spirit of the land and the triumph of nature by starting with subdued tones and then picking up the tempo as the mood moved along in the gay melodies of the festival of music.

Before the curtain was drawn for the close of the first part for the intermission, the band swung into "Jazz Rumba," a rhythm piece that picked up the lighter spirit of the audience and then into the old

South Viet Nam Chieftain Woos Wavering Opposition

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem sought today to bolster further his embattled government by wooing wavering leader of the private armies seeking his overthrow.

The American-supported premier also was reported preparing to announce formation of a new non-partisan government excluding from the Cabinet the Hoao and Cao Dai religious sects, which oppose him. They hold four seats each at present.

Saigon passed another calm night as the Binh Xuyen ceased standing in the poor showing it made in Wednesday's clash.

Lam, a moderate, does not see eye to eye with the two other Hoao generals, Tran Van Soai and one-armed Le Quang Vinh, better known as "Bacut."

Soai is reported to have left Saigon to organize a campaign against Diem's troops in the West. Bacut, who commands Hoao forces in that area, has been carrying on a running battle with government troops for weeks.

Island Shaken Violently For 8-Hour Period

Northwest Mindanao Hardest Hit; Many Reported Homeless

MAINILA (AP)—Violent earthquakes shook southern Philippines for nearly eight hours today, leaving at least 164 dead, thousands homeless and widespread destruction.

Hardest hit was the palm-tree-studded belt of northwestern Mindanao, second largest island in the archipelago. The first heavy shock hit the area at 2:15 a. m. Thereafter a chain reaction of tremors set in, heaving the earth on Panay, Negros, Samar, Cebu, Leyte and Bohol islands.

The Philippine Red Cross said the death toll appeared largest at Lake Lanao on Mindanao. Coastal towns to the west were devastated. Houses crumpled, churches collapsed and the power failed.

Capt. Angelo Cruz, public relations officer of the 4th Military Area, embracing Mindanao, reported there were 164 confirmed dead in Lanao province and 15 missing.

A Philippine News Service dispatch from Iligan reported earth fissures measuring as wide as a foot in some places. The tremors caused landslides.

THE NEWS SERVICE said 10 persons were hurt at Iligan and a waterfront office building there slid into the sea.

From Ozamis City (Misamis, a town of 35,262, an estimated $1 million in damage was reported. At least 2,000 were homeless.

"Everyone in this city and nearby towns thought the world had ended and death had come," a Manila Times correspondent messaged from Ozamis.

The Weather Bureau plotted the epicenter at some 600 miles south and southeast of Manila or a point between Ozamis and Iligan cities in Mindanao.

Ozamis is located in Misamis Occidental province. Iligan, with a population of 25,725, is in Lanao province to the east.

The Weather Bureau said the greatest intensity of the earthquake was recorded at Dipolog City, population 40,618, on the northern tip of Zamboanga province on Mindanao.

The reading at Dipolog was 7 on a scale of 9.

The bureau said it had no recording at Ozamis but believed the intensity was greater there. Readings at other cities ranged from 2 to 6.

Coming in the early morning hours when most people were asleep, the earthquake threw villagers into panic.

The stately stone Roman Catholic church at Ozamis, built in Spain's occupation, was reported destroyed. Public buildings trembled and fell.

Water spouted from broken mains. Electric lines snapped. Men, women and children scrambled for safety in the predawn darkness.

A wharf at Ozamis was badly damaged, making it unserviceable.

The government mobilized relief agencies to assist the stricken areas.

Relief kitchens were established by the Red Cross. Dr. Feliciano Cruz said, "It is impossible to estimate the total cost of damage and destruction caused but it's certain to run into millions of pesos." A peso is worth 50 cents.

Farm Boy Killed By Dad's Tractor

POSTORIA (AP)—Lynn Eldon Painter, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Painter of Rt. 2, Postoria, died yesterday when he became entangled in the machinery of a tractor.

The little boy's father was loading a farm wagon with the tractor when the youth, who was playing in the barnyard, climbed upon the tractor and fell into the machinery.

Balloons Bob Over City As 5,000 Are Presented To Kids

That sound echoed along Court Street more than once Friday as some youngster let go of the string of a helium-filled balloon and watched, waiting, as his toy sailed off into the blue.

By mid-morning, the sky was dotted with bobbing red, blue, yellow and orange balloons.

But a lot more stayed closer to the ground. A great lot more, A. Russell Hinchey, manager of the Murphy Store here, says that 5,000 balloons will be handed out by Murphy employees today and tomorrow.

The balloons, along with some 3,500 shopping bags, are being given away to celebrate the opening of the newly-redecorated and enlarged Murphy Store.

Four Murphy employees are assigned to the sole job of inflating the balloons with helium gas, the non-inflammable stuff that gives balloons their "upliftiness."

The helium comes into the store in big tanks, and the balloons are set on a special valve. When the valve is opened the balloons puff up, a string is snapped around their necks, and that's that. Hinchey says they can be inflated at a terrific rate this way.

And that's just how they're coming—at a terrific rate.

April Fool's Day

share of grim times, are said to enjoy April Fool pranks which take place during what is known as the Feast of Fools, observed on March 31.

Incidentally, in conducting exhaustive research for this scholarly treatise on April Foolism, an interesting item came to light. It seems that in the early days of American education it was the custom on April 1 for older school boys to send younger first-termers to the library to look up and find the name of Adam's grandfather.

Pretty good, eh?—Adam's grandfather!

By the way, who was Adam's grandfather?

Election Tuesday For Eagles Lodge

Plans for the annual election of the Eagle Lodge here Tuesday today were virtually complete.

For the second consecutive year, the election will be by printed ballot.

The polls are to open at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and remain open until 8:15 o'clock in the evening.

This year there are contests for only two chairs: candidates for worthy president are Earl G. Allison and Harvey J. Heironimus and candidates for vice president are Nelson Whaley and Ernest Pummell.

Efforts are being made to persuade all Eagles to exercise their rights in the selection of officers for the acie here.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George, 77-year-old Democrat from Georgia, has moved into a vacuum in the Senate and has become in effect there President Eisenhower's strong right arm on foreign policy.

George, in his own right and as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, is the most respected and influential Democrat on foreign affairs in the Senate, where the Democrats, who have a majority, could give Eisenhower the miseries.

But George has backed the President repeatedly on foreign policy and has rallied other Democrats to his support. It was no wonder the President this week publicly expressed his respect and admiration for him.

The vacuum has been created by the performance of Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader in the Senate. Ordinarily a president could expect his party's Senate leader to carry the ball for him on foreign relations. Instead, Knowland has repeatedly differed with Eisenhower. The resulting impression is that the Republicans are split down the middle on foreign policy.

For example, Eisenhower has been trying to handle the Chinese Communists carefully, with restraint. George goes along with him. Knowland has been calling for a far more aggressive policy, even to the blockade of Red China.

Knowland felt it necessary to take a stand opposite Eisenhower's on the Yalta papers.

For a week the Republicans beat the Democrats over the head with the Yalta papers' account of the wartime Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting. Then Eisenhower stepped in. He said he opposed their use for political partisan advantage.

Promptly Knowland announced: "I don't agree with him. I intend to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it pertinent." Then, although he didn't say he opposed Eisenhower's re-election, in 1956, he said he was against drafting him to run.

The President, who almost never issues a personal rebuke to any of his lieutenants, has been patient with Knowland while at the same time being patient with the Red Chinese, with whom Knowland is very impatient.

This week, for instance, Eisenhower again would not say whether the United States intended to defend the Matsu and Quemoy islands. In this way he left the door open to the Red Chinese to talk about the islands peacefully.

George said he supports Eisenhower's position of vagueness. But Knowland this week was talking of a need to defend the islands. He's all for fighting for them, he said.

So, as time goes on, Eisenhower looks more and more to George as a major influence, and it's the major influence, on the White House side in the Senate on foreign affairs.

Injury Mishaps On The Increase

Traffic Accidents Are Discussed

Although traffic fatalities so far this year are below those of last year, in the county and state, enforcement officials are disturbed by the upward trend in personal injury and property damage traffic accidents.

Police Chief Vaiden Long states that quite a few communities show increases in accidents of this type, although traffic deaths are much less than a year ago.

So far not a single traffic fatality has occurred in Fayette County this year, although a year ago two of the 12 fatalities in the county during the year, occurred before April.

Ordinarily April has the best fatality record, averaging between 4 and 5 deaths per day, with a total often lower than February. But the month brings two significant changes in traffic accident pattern. Fatal injury of pedal cyclists and of juvenile pedestrians increase.

Accidents involving cyclists seldom are a problem until April. They remain so until October has passed. A fair percentage of these crashes would never occur if the youth operated his vehicle as the law provides.

Chief Long put heavy emphasis on the point that Ohio law puts the bicycle in the vehicle class. Like all other vehicles, bicycles must be operated on the right hand half of the roadway, as near as possible to the right hand curb or roadside.

THE RIDER is required to observe signs, traffic signals and markings the same as a motorist should. And bicycles ridden at night must have a headlamp and tail light each of which can be seen 500 feet.

It is a very dangerous practice to ride into the street from a driveway. Cyclist should stop before they pass the curb line, and not remount until they can see that the way is clear.

Most of the youth involved in pedestrian mishaps have been playing in the street, or have run into the street.

Chief Long had a word of warning for motorists too: remember, you have to think for children. It is too much to expect that youth will always do as it should. Adults—especially drivers—have to expect a youngster to pop from the hiding of a parked car; that one will dash wildly into the street in a chase.

Two from Here Attend Hearing

Support Is Given Incorporation Curbs

Walter Morrow, the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Area Development committee here, and Glen Allen, the Chamber secretary, today said they felt that legislation to control municipal incorporation was a step closer in the state Legislature.

They went to the Ohio Chamber of Commerce headquarters in Columbus Wednesday afternoon where they joined representatives of other Chambers in the state to study legislation that would place restrictions on the incorporation of municipalities.

They explained that their opposition to what they felt were loose laws governing municipal incorporation of municipalities in Ohio, thus took a positive and constructive approach, rather than negative and destructive.

They voiced their opposition to the present laws, which they said they felt left the way open for incorporation of uneconomical and financially sound municipalities, and threw their support behind

House Bill 89, which they said would provide needed restrictions, when they appeared at a House committee hearing in the state capitol building Wednesday night.

Morrow and Allen had been delegated by the board of directors of the Chamber here to appear before the committee. Allen was the spokesman.

Morrow and Allen said that while we have no problems of this kind here, the Chamber directors felt the barn door should be locked before the horse gets out. Washington C. H. was one of only

Minorities Can Prove To Be Dynamite

How many of us whether we live in Washington C. H., Fayette County or elsewhere, fully realize what a few people, well organized, representing only a small minority of the public, can get done if they perseveringly and consistently stay with the job, of getting something done?

If such a minority is actually pushing something usefully for the public good, this usually works out for public betterment.

Dangerous and threatening however, are such minority groups which seek to undermine good government from cities to counties to states and even the nation. Equally hazardous, from the viewpoint of public welfare, are such groups if they seek to win thoughtless public support for a plan, a scheme or a movement that relies upon an appeal to selfishness, rather than what is best for the greatest number of people.

Most of us really ought to learn more than we know about active minorities. They often sway the decisions of government, or plans of action by large organizations, in modern times.

Minorities organize easily for political purposes, not only because their numbers are few, but because they have few but very definite objectives. They want to get something for themselves or their proteges at the expense of the rest, or they seek to impose regulations suitable to their group on everyone else.

Their smallness, rather than being a disadvantage is actually helpful to minorities, the wails of the bleeding hearts notwithstanding. The very lack of a stature and numbers renders the general public tolerant or contemptuous. Minorities can pull all manner of tricky plays and most people remain smug, or indifferent.

The potency of the minority groups lies in their cohesion, their specialized training, if any is needed for their purposes, and, above all, the fact that they are so very vocal.

A handful can make themselves sound like a million when they want to lobby a bill through the Legislature or through Congress; a hard little nucleus can stampede a mob if its members know just when and how to strike. Minorities have demonstrated their talents for doing just that.

By no means are all minority pressure plays dangerous or undesirable. Our clubs and lodges, for instance, go to bat for worthy causes all the time. Their success at applying pressure, however, illustrates what minorities can accomplish.

For example, the communists have always been a minority. They have swept across half the world and are chewing away at the rest. Millions ruling billions.

Watch the loud, little busybody bunches. They're dynamite. Don't try to laugh them off.

Gen. Bradley -- No Erosion

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Life holds a busy serenity today for Omar Nelson Bradley, who nearly ten years ago led American ground forces to victory in Europe.

At 62 the graying general of the Army, no longer assigned to active duty but still available to a bugle call, is holding down more jobs than at any time in his career.

The erosion of time has touched "Brad" but lightly. He is as erect as ever. He weighs 178 pounds, only five more than when he left West Point in 1915.

"But my wife, Mary, says I can't brag about that—the weight isn't in the same place," he said cheerfully.

The five-star general stepped down as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in August, 1953. He ended then the 12 tensest years of his life—four spent on the battlefield, eight in Washington as veterans administrator, Army chief of staff, and the nation's top military chieftain.

"I was glad to get out from under the pressure in Washington," Bradley recalled. "So was Mary. She shared the pressure. But I was afraid of a lei!"

There wasn't any letdown. After swearing in Adm. Bradford as his successor, Brad went out and played the best game of golf in his life. Three days later he reported for duty here as board chairman of the Bulova research and development laboratories.

In Europe Bradley directed the attack of 1,200,000 men, the largest force under a field commander in American history. Now he supervises 43 defense projects, many requiring precision craftsmanship on tiny arms, safety and timing devices on secret guided missiles.

Summarizing the military picture today, Bradley said soberly: "We're not where we thought we'd be 10 years ago when the war ended. We had high hopes then of peace for a long time to come."

"But we have had to go on re-

arming for our own protection, since Russia won't disarm."

"I don't think many people today question the necessity of our going into the second world war and the Korean situation."

"Some even have advocated a preventive war against Russia. I don't think that would answer anything. We'd be doing ourselves the very thing we are trying to prevent—aggression."

"I'm afraid if we have an atomic war there might not be much of anything left."

To forge the great battle victories in Europe it fell to Bradley to give orders for missions that inevitably led thousands of men to death or injury. I asked him if he ever received any bitter letters.

"Never," he said quietly. And into his eyes crept a wish—the wish nobody ever would send him a bitter letter. Few men know the price of war better than Omar Nelson Bradley. No man could want another war less than he does today.

'Sense of History' Is Confusing

By George Sokolsky

The National Committee For An Effective Congress has issued a circular letter to a general mailing list, including persons who have always opposed it. It wants more money. The letter is signed by Oscar Hammerstein II who writes successful plays and Sidney H. Scheuer, about whom I know nothing.

The circular letter speaks of a "know nothing group in Congress" which is supposed to be a term of opprobrium but is historically a synonym for nationalism. Not call these members of Congress nationalists, I cannot know, except perhaps that to do so would lose him contributors. There is still a strong grassroots Nationalistic sentiment in the United States, albeit one must admit that it is not too strong in Washington or New York where internationalism thrives despite all.

So, Messrs. Hammerstein and Scheuer hold that these nationalists combined with commentators, newspapers and organizations to grab "for the instruments of power, and set the political climate." These elected representatives of the people apparently did something wrong when they voted their consciences or according to the general attitude of their constituencies.

Then I must quote: "On the other hand, the responsible candidates, when they arrived on Capitol Hill, found that most of the outside organizations to which they looked for support and research were limited in scope to specific legislative goals, mostly economic and usually unattainable in the existing climate. Yet these good legislators were in a fight to defend our way of life, requiring a sense of history reaching beyond the slogans of economic groups."

I cannot tell you who the "responsible candidates" who arrived on Capitol Hill are because they are not listed, although I think the writers meant elected representatives. Have it as you will, what makes one group "responsible" and another group power-grabbers? The answer is that those who agree with the National Committee For An Effective Congress are "responsible" and everybody else is a bum. You can turn that idea vice versa and come up with the same degree of truth.

The next sentence in this quoted paragraph I don't understand at all. Who are "these good legislators"? Is, for instance, Senator Flinders a good legislator because he read a speech that this committee prepared for him? Is Senator Dirksen a bad legislator because he did not read such a speech? Look at the record and the goodness or badness or neither is so clearly definable.

And what is meant by "a sense of history reaching beyond the slogans of economic groups"? What are these economic groups? Take, for instance, H. R. I, the Tariff Act, which is supported by Henry Ford II and Walter Reuther, one representing ownership and management and the other the labor union—both in the same industry. Although they divide on the question of the annual wage, they unite on H. R. I on a free trade tariff. Where is the clear-cut economic grouping? And what are their slogans? And wherein do they lack a sense of history? And why are we to believe that Messrs. Hammerstein and Scheuer have a more acute sense of history? The letter does not say.

Here is another one of those curious phrases:

"Now, after the censure of McCarthy, the momentary decline of the know-nothings leaves a political vacuum."

Firstly, McCarthy was not censured.

Secondly, if what these gentlemen call know-nothingism and what actually is nationalism has so declined that it leaves a political vacuum, the National Committee For An Effective Congress has won a great victory. It has done its work. It should now go out of existence having saved the United States from the plague of nationalism. Even a doctor quits when the patient is cured. But no! This committee would fill that vacuum—that is the vacuum created by the decline of nationalism. There is no vacuum among the nationalists.

Nevertheless, this organization wants more money to provide members of Congress with their services. . . whether it involves a request for a lawyer with the qualifications and time to undertake a particular study, or the provision of a typist who can help prepare necessary documents—requires a constant application of skilled man-hours."

It is an interesting appeal. If he had asked me for a contribution, I would send mine to the Damon Runyon Fund or to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Diet and Health

Change Baby's Diet To Aid Constipation

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Sometimes a simple change in diet is enough to overcome a baby's constipation. If it isn't, call your doctor and get his advice on what to do.

I can't recommend flat procedures to follow because the circumstances involving your baby might be entirely different from those in another case.

Using Mineral Oil

Your doctor might suggest giving your baby mineral oil. This does not act as a laxative, however. It merely softens his bowel movements and lubricates the passage to provide for an easy discharge.

I think you will usually find that one or two spoonfuls are enough. Give them to him at bedtime.

Never Force Baby

Don't, however, give the baby any mineral oil if he is crying. In fact, never force him to take it. He might breathe the oil into his lungs, which could cause a serious case of pneumonia.

As your child's bowel movements become more normal, cut down on the amount of mineral oil. Stop the doses entirely when he is regular once again.

Old-Fashioned Idea

The idea that you should give your baby a laxative just to clean him out once in a while is old-fashioned. Don't do it. And don't give laxatives if he has a pain in his abdomen or if his abdomen is tender.

Your doctor might also advise giving the baby an enema or suppository.

Preparing an Enema

If you give him an enema, use either plain water or water containing a small amount of salt. To prepare the mixture, use one level teaspoonful of table salt to a pint of lukewarm water.

The Right Amount

For a baby under six months of age, half a glassful is enough. One glassful can be used for an older baby.

Should your doctor suggest a suppository, you can purchase infant glycerin suppositories at any drug store. If it's late at night, or if there is any other reason, you can't buy one when needed, you can use a greased syringe nozzle, or you can make a suppository from a bar of soap.

Use Mild Soap

To make soap, take a used cake of mild soap, like castile, and cut off a piece two inches long. Used soap is less likely to break when you begin whittling. Cut it down until it is about one-fourth of an inch across. That's the about the size of your baby's little finger. Make one end narrower than the other, and round it off until it is perfectly smooth.

Place the small end of the suppository about two-thirds of its length into the baby's rectum. Hold onto the other end, of course.

If this doesn't stimulate bowel action within five minutes, remove it. Then you'll have to try thing else. Maybe an enema.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. R. H.: What causes burning of the rectum after having a bowel movement?

Answer: Burning of the rectum may occur because of excessive acidity of the bowel movement, which could come from some type of bowel infection.

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Some youngsters in Ohio County tentatively scheduled to receive the Salk polio vaccine in April apparently have found what they think is a way to escape the dreaded needle.

Jack Clemm, administrative assistant in the City-County Health Department, said today that many of the consent forms sent to parents via the first and second graders in the county schools have never reached home.

Clemm said, "Evidently in some cases the children either feared the inoculation or lost the paper and said nothing about it at home." He said the matter was called to his attention by queries from parents.

Modern Holy Week Message

By EUGENE CARSON BLAKE
President, National Council of Churches
Some people avoid religion because they are afraid that they will be unpopular with the crowd if they appear too pious. Others go to church for no better reason than that they think it is the thing to do to make them popular.

Palm Sunday is the day when the crowds were all cheering for Jesus as He rode a donkey toward Jerusalem. A few days later the same crowd were shouting "Crucify Him," "Crucify Him."
One thing this proves: it is foolish to live your life according to what you think will make you popular. Do what you believe God wants you to do and you will feel right inside whether the crowd cheers or jeers.

MANY PEOPLE justify themselves by saying "I am religious but I have no use for the Churches." Monday of Holy Week is the day on which Jesus went into the temple at Jerusalem and drove out those who were selling and buying there, even turning the tables of the money changers, saying as He did it, "It is written 'My house shall be called a house of prayer,' but you make it a den of robbers." Now if you really think that the churches of today have become dens of robbers, you ought to do something about it as Jesus did. But if you are just protecting yourself and your pocketbook by criticizing the generally good men who are responsible for the Churches, don't think you are fooling anybody, least of all God.

STRANGELY enough, most Americans prove that ours is an essentially irreligious age because they judge the Church by the standards of Americanism rather than judging all human governments by the standards of God that they should learn in their churches. Jesus was standing in the courtyard of the temple in Jerusalem on one of the days of the first

Holy Week. His enemies asked Him an embarrassing question and in front of the crowd, "Is it right for us to pay Rome taxes, or not?" Whatever He answered would likely get Him in trouble. If He said "yes" the anti-Roman crowd would turn against Him. If He said "no," He would be arrested as a subversive revolutionary.
"Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," said Jesus. "Render unto God the things that are God's," as He pointed to a coin with Caesar's name upon it. So Christians have always known that true religion gives no man an excuse to be a disloyal citizen.

But this does not mean that you ought to suppose the government is God. A good government greatly needs people who believe so much in God that neither state nor church dares invade their rights or freedoms.

SOME PEOPLE really think that God loves Americans and nobody else. Do you?

One day on the last week of Jesus' life, some Greek people, foreigners, wanted to talk to Him. There was a big crowd around and they had a hard time getting near enough finally to hear him say, "If any one serves Me he must follow Me; and where I am, there shall My servant be also; if any one serves Me, the Father will honor him."

Twice He says to you and me: "if any one" There are no distinctions of race or class or nation in Jesus' kingdom. The new aristocracy of God's house which you may join requires you to follow Jesus who chose to be a servant.

SOME MINISTERS are rightly praised because they make religion plain and simple. Do this and this and this and this and you will be saved, they say. But these same ministers are sometimes rightly criticized for making religion simpler than it is.

Even Jesus, the clearest religious teacher who ever taught, could not put everything about God in simple words. The Thursday of Holy Week is remembered as the night on which He gathered in the upper room with his followers, broke bread for them, and offered them a cup for the first communion service.

Christianity is much more than the clearest Christian teaching. If you want to be saved, never forget that most men and women have found the grace of God in the holy sacrament in their church.

A YOUNG WOMAN was talking to her pastor about her marriage and the divorce she was considering. The pastor was cautioning her until she blurted out, "You want me to be happy, don't you?" Of course he did, but the question was whether happiness is the only or chief purpose or value of life.

Good Friday is remembered as the day when Jesus was crucified upon a cross. If you are aiming for happiness and nothing else or more, you will never understand anything about Christianity and the cross which is its central symbol. Happiness is good. God loves his children and wants you to be happy. But the cross reminds us all that the twine of life has twisted in it a thread of suffering which, while not good, is made good for those who will do what is right even though they suffer. Pain which you freely accept for those whom you love is the way to become like Christ who died for you.

SOME PEOPLE pride themselves on not being joiners. They belong to no club, nor church, nor group of any kind, or if they join they hold themselves so much apart that they really belong to nobody.

On the day after Jesus was crucified, his friends were afraid, confused, and disappointed. If they had not been together in their sorrow, they would have been lost. They were a fellowship that even survived their tragic loss. When He appeared again, it was to them together.

If you think that you can live your life apart and aloof from others, you will find that joy unshared is hardly joy, and that fear or sorrow shared is not only bearable but that is the way Saints are made.

THE RABBIT and the egg have almost become the symbols of Easter. The rabbit and the egg remind us that life is fertile and that every winter has its spring. This has something to do with Easter, but not very much.

The Christian Easter is symbolized by an empty grave, an open tomb. Resurrection is more than renewal of life, more than immortality.

If you want to lose your fear of death, forget rabbits and eggs, and behold the risen Christ.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)
Dick Pensyl, a member of this year's senior class, has developed a very unusual hobby. It is unusual because of its scope and its beautiful photography.

Dick, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pensyl, has developed a series of colored slides which he calls "Touring America". Every picture that is shown has been taken by Dick while he and his family were traveling throughout the United States.

To accompany the presentation of the slides, he has also prepared a tape for use with a tape recorder that describes the pictures or the scene portrayed. At appropriate spots he has also "dubbed in" fitting music.

The hobby, started some time ago, developed into its present form as a part of an English project when he was a junior.

Dick has shown his slides to many school and community groups. Among the latest to see the series were the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Grades of Cherry Hill School. The pictures were shown as a part of a geography lesson for the students, and you can be sure that it was one of the most interesting geography lessons they had ever had.

The development of hobbies has been given considerable importance at Cherry Hill School this year, and Dick's hobby may prove to be an inspiration to some of the students there.

Easter Lily Sale Saturday To Aid Hundreds Like Eddie

On Saturday, scores of children will be selling tiny paper replicas of Easter lilies in the business section of Washington C. H. These little paper flowers are more than decoration.

The money you contribute to pay for your Easter lily will help some crippled child walk.

Every cent that goes into the collection cans on Saturday will go toward medical aid for crippled children or toward research that will enable the Society for Crippled Children to offer still more effective aid in the future.

Dimes and dollars contributed toward the Society last year helped one young sufferer from cerebral palsy to take his first steps.

The boy is Paul Eddie Chamblin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Chamblin of the Greenfield Road. Last year, the Record-Herald photographer visited the Chamblin home and found Eddie, a plucky five-year-old, had recently learned to stand alone.

He had been fitted with braces and special shoes, and given a pair of crutches by the Society. But Eddie was still entirely unable to walk.

On January 17, Eddie took his first step unaided. It was the biggest day in the lives of his parents, Mrs. Chamblin says now.

When the Record-Herald photographer paid another visit to the Chamblin home this year, Eddie could take as many as five steps without help. He demonstrated his new skill for the camera.

BUT THOSE five steps represented a staggering cost; in money to the Society, in toll for Mrs. Ruth Wientjes of the Health Department, and in struggle for Eddie and his parents.

Mrs. Wientjes has visited the Chamblin home once or twice a month, Mrs. Chamblin says. Every three months, Eddie is given a thorough going-over in the hospital. And frequently, because Eddie is a fast growing boy, the braces on his body and legs, the special shoes he wears and his crutches must be changed.

All this costs money. A recent alteration in Eddie's leg braces and the substitution of a corset for a body brace cost $97, for example. "I know," says Mrs. Chamblin. "I signed the bill. And I heaved a sigh of relief when I thought of how hard it would be to pay that bill, and all the others I just sign."

But despite the cost, Eddie's five steps are the most precious in the world to his parents—and to him. "He thinks he's doing something wonderful," says Mrs. Chamblin. "And he is! He never used to smile or laugh much, but now he does it often. And he's singing all the time."

The road from five steps to a hundred will be difficult for Eddie. But he has the courage he needs, if he can continue to get the medical help he must have. Will you help him take those hundred steps?

In 1954, U. S. Pacific Coast states increased their population by 3.7 per cent or approximately double the national rate.

Gl's Assured Of Hike In Their Wages

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 1,700,000 members of the armed forces were virtually assured today of a pay raise starting tomorrow.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he expects President Eisenhower to sign during the day a bill rushed to him by Congress late yesterday.

Carrying out an administration request, it will aid primarily career servicemen.

The Senate passed the bill by voice vote after about an hour of discussion yesterday. The House, which had OK'd it earlier, accepted by voice vote some minor Senate changes.

The pay raise averages 12 per cent for career service personnel. It is estimated to cost $750 million yearly. With a few exceptions, the measure provides only for raises in base pay, and in hazard bonuses for such specialists as submariners, divers, paratroopers and demolition experts.

Personnel in the lower grades would receive the largest percentage boost. Not counting food and quarters allowances, the pay boost averages out to 13 per cent for officers and 11.7 per cent for enlisted men. To benefit, officers must have three years of service and enlisted men and warrant officers two.

Railroad Boosts Piggy-Back Service

CLEVELAND (AP)—"Piggy-back" service in hauling truck trailers has increased each month since it was started last July on the Nickel Plate Railroad. Studies are being made to expand the service, L. L. White said in an annual report to stockholders today.

White reported Nickel Plate's traffic volume last year was below 1953 and profit last year was $14,460,872, or $6.05 a share, compared with $17,866,796, or $7.70 a share in 1953. White predicted a pickup in the road's traffic this year.

4 County High Schools Set Baseball Tourney For Openers Next Week

That belated blast of winter last week upset the Fayette County high school baseball schedule, but it definitely did not stop the sport. The first games of a double-elimination tournament was originally slated for Friday (this afternoon), but the opening was postponed by general agreement because the coaches felt the boys had not been able to get in enough practice.

So, the curtain raisers were re-scheduled for Monday, but now there was a possibility that they might be postponed again. However, the second postponement was by no means a certainty; the final decision probably will be made over the weekend after the weather forecasts are studied.

For the first time in several years all four high schools in the county are going to field baseball teams and revive the sport with the full treatment.

In the drawings for the tournament, in which a team stays in the running until it loses two games, were the same as those for the basketball tournament.

That means that Jeffersonville's Tigers will go to Bloomington to tangle with the Bulldogs and the Warriors of Madison Mills will go to Good Hope to meet the Mad Antonyms for the tournament openers.

Squads of all four schools have been limbering up at every chance they get, but at that they have been restricted to the gymnasiums for much of it.

They have been taking full advantage of these last few bright days to get out in the field; besides sharpening up their batting eyes, the outfield candidates have been chasing flies and the infielders have been coordinating their reflexes to handle those hot ground ers.

Vejar Favored To Top Graham

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Young, ambitious Chico Vejar has another 10-round date tonight with Billy Graham, the ring veteran who once almost had within his grasp the world welterweight championship Chico years for.

The bout will be telecast and broadcast by NBC at 10 p.m. EST. Graham had retirement in mind before he met Vejar March 4 in Madison Square Garden.

Chico won that one, in a split decision, but Graham decided he wanted more. He says he's in top shape for this one, but Vejar's youth and speed make him an 8-5 favorite.

Jeffersonville Workout Called

Baseball Activities Under Way Here Again

These last few bright days, coming after a wintry blast, have put baseball right up in the forefront of the sports picture here.

Tommy Smalley, the headman of last year's Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League and the team that share allegiance between Washington C. H. and Good Hope, has started laying the framework for what he hopes will be an 8-team circuit for the coming season.

He has been sending out letters to the baseball leaders in half a dozen towns in this area inviting them to consider entering teams in the SWO this season. Up to now, he has not had an overwhelming response, he admits, but that, too, can be blamed on the weather that chilled baseball thoughts along with everything else.

But as Jeffersonville, things are humming.

BOB HILDRETH, the high school coach, who agreed to serve as the manager of the town's team last season, has called for a workout of the boys on last year's team, plus any others who may be interested.

The high school field is to be used and the session is slated for 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Hildreth said he hoped all of last year's squad still around here would be back and added that he thought it would.

There are two places to be filled however: Two regulars Clark Coe and Dale Coppock are now in the army. Both were infielders and right hitters. Coppock also did some pitching. If Hildreth has anyone in mind to take over for them, he has not given so much as a hint to their identity.

The Jeffersonville aggregation was the hot team in these parts last year. It finished the season with a record of 23 victories against only 3 losses.

Akron Now Facing Transit Walkout

AKRON — With a transit strike scheduled for tonight at midnight, negotiators for the Akron Transportation Co. and its two unions are in around-the-clock sessions with Mayor Leo A. Berg.

The bus drivers want a 10-cent-an-hour boost to $1.80 an hour, and the mechanics want a 30 cent boost to their present $1.90 an hour. The company wants to cut both seven cents an hour.

Factory Expanding

CLEVELAND — The National Screw & Manufacturing Co. has purchased a 265,000 - square - foot building adjacent to its main plant in Cleveland. The building was sold by the National City Bank of Cleveland for an undisclosed sum.

DeMarco Set For Meeting With Saxton

BOSTON — Tony DeMarco's chances of winning the welterweight boxing title from champion Johnny Saxton tonight depend largely on whether the local slugger can prove he's not a bleeder.

The healed knot of cartilage over DeMarco's left eye and the chin's sparmate cut last December could be decisive in the 15-round battle for the 147-pound crown.

The Boston Garden fight will not be televised or broadcast.

DeMarco, No. 3 challenger, has escaped eye cuts in his last five bouts covering 32 rounds. But in his warmups for a scheduled December meeting with Joe Miceli, he was gashed along his chin and the fight was canceled.

Since then he's had a 10-round non-title draw with lightweight champion Jimmy Carter, from which he escaped unscathed.

It will be the first title defense for Saxton, the 24-year-old New York Negro, since winning the championship from Kid Gavilan in Philadelphia last October. His two intervening engagements were a split decision over Ramon Fuentes and a loss to Middleweight Ron Delaney.

Odds ranged from 12-5 to 2-1 on the champion only a week after they had been 6-5 and pick 'em.

Congressmen Set For Baseball Prep

WASHINGTON — Congress members are ready to take up where major leaguers left off in Florida spring baseball training.

Sixty-two members who hope to play in the annual game between Democrats and Republicans move into Daytona Beach, Fla., this weekend for six days of practice during the Easter recess of Congress. The game will be played in Washington June 7.

The game is a five-inning affair, played in Griffith Stadium, home of the Washington Senators of the American League. The Republicans never have won.

Haas, Maxwell Leading Azalea

WILMINGTON, N. C. — Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio scored 35-34-69, and Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, tallied 35-35-70, in yesterday's opening round of the $12,500 Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

Fred Haas Jr., Claremont, Calif., and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., tied for the lead at 65 each after the first 18 holes.

Ohio Horse Racing Season Opening

AKRON — Horse racing starts today at nearby Ascot Park, the earliest opening day in Ohio racing history.

Ascot, with a new owner, new tote board, new officials and new horses, starts a 44-day meet with eight races featuring the inaugural handicap with $1,500 for 3-year-olds and older over 6 1/2 furlongs.

The track's new proprietor is Horace Adams of Cleveland, who controls a string of movie theaters and is making his first venture into racing. He paid $1,300,000 for Ascot last year.

Canada Girl Cancels Swim Plans

VICTORIA, B. C. — Eighteen-year-old Janice White, of Toronto, has canceled plans to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca between here and Port Angeles Wash.

Unrelenting winds and the menace of a new storm crowding in from the Pacific led her last night to abandon the try at crossing the cold channel which defeated Florence Chadwick last August.

She has been trying for three days to start the 18-mile - plud splash from Canada to the U. S.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

Strawberry Planting Systems

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Distributed by Central Press Association

IF YOU are planning to grow

strawberries for the first time

this year, set out the plants as soon as the soil can be properly

worked.

You can grow them by the

matted-row system. This calls

for setting plants at intervals of

18 to 30 inches in rows. The rows

should be spaced three to four

feet apart. Then allow runners

to form a mat of each row.

If you want berries of large

size and excellent quality, use the

hill system shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. This sys-

tem requires a little more work

than the matted-row system and

for that reason is not used by commercial planters. Space rows

two to three feet apart, as illustrated. Set plants 12 to 15 inches

apart in the rows. Do not allow runners to develop.

The hedgerow system, illustrated, is another that may be used to good advantage by home gardeners. Space rows three feet

apart, as illustrated. Set plants 24

inches apart. Then allow each

plant to produce two runners,

which will then leave the growing

plants approximately eight inches

apart in the row.

The soil for a strawberry planting should be moderately fertile,

well drained and contain enough

humus to retain moisture. Soils

that lack humus should have

rotted manure added before the

berries are planted.

Economists and labor relations

specialists from Indiana, Illinois,

Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and

Kentucky will attend.

First Service At New Church Easter Morning

Original Plans For
St. Andrews Opening
Have to be Changed

Easter Day will mark the opening of the new St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, located on the Greenfield Road just beyond the Country Club, the Rev. Sanford Lindsey, rector, said.

The new church and parish house are in the final stages of construction and it was originally hoped to be in the church itself by Palm Sunday. Delays in the manufacture of carpeting and special chandeliers made it necessary to delay the first service until Easter.

The church itself, of colonial style, will seat about 300 and is characterized by several features once generally accepted in most church buildings.

The altar stands free in the midst of a very spacious sanctuary, with the communion rail extending around three sides. The chancel contains only two pews for acolytes, and the lectern and pulpit stand free also.

The new pipe organ, secured last fall and installed by Karl Kay, is located in the balcony in the back of the church, along with the choir. The great walnut polychromed Cross, six feet in height, will hang down from the Gothic roof beams directly over the altar.

THE ALTAR GUILD, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Willett, has made by hand a full frontal and super-frontal (brocade and metallic gold motifs which hang the full length of the altar) as well as the lectern and pulpit antependia and two fair linen cloths. The altar of solid walnut 80 by 36 inches along with the great cross was made from a single walnut log cut by Felix Halliday for this purpose, Rev. Lindsey revealed.

It will be an especially meaningful service of Holy Communion on Easter morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Lindsey said, since the church has been built by Robert Lisk, a contractor and Junior Warden of the parish.

Lisk and his associates, assisted by many of the men and boys of the parish, have built all the furnishings for the church with the exception of the lectern top, which was brought from the old church on East Street for reasons for sentiment.

Washington C. H. people, who have been so generous and helpful in the building of this new church, will be cordially welcomed at any time to inspect the Church or join with the congregation in worship.

Rev. Lindsey is priest-in-charge and the Rev. John Carson, the assistant.

Cub Scout Pack 303 Begins Second Year

Members of the Milledgeville Cub Scout Pack 303 marked the beginning of their pack's second year at a meeting Thursday evening at the Milledgeville School.

Charles Hiser, the cubmaster, gave each member a re-registration card, signifying the close of the pack's first year and the beginning of its second.

The youngsters and their leaders laid plans for an advancement ceremony to be held at the next meeting on April 28. Three of the boys have reached the maximum age for Cubs and will be advanced into the ranks of Boy Scouts.

After the den mother, Mrs. Robert Creamer, read the treasurer's report, her husband took over the showing of a pair of movies, "Paul Bunyan" and "Man on the Land." The first told the story of logging, from the forest through to newspaper print like the paper on which the Record-Herald is printed. The second underscored the lessons taught by conservation practices.

Tommy McDonald, Johnny Minton and J. P. Morgan led the games.

Refreshments, Easter molds of ice cream and Easter cupcakes, were served by Mrs. Charles Hiser, Mrs. Edward Rankin and Mrs. Fred Bitzer.

Talk Is Given On Anesthetics

Two Are Inducted Into Sympsiarch

Dr. Marvin Roszmann told the Sympsiarch meeting here Thursday night that if he could convince people going into surgery that it would be better for them to let their own physician, the surgeon and the anesthetist decide what anesthetic would be best he would feel he had accomplished something worthwhile.

Dr. Roszmann, a physician who has specialized in anesthesia and administers most of the anesthetics at Memorial Hospital here, was the principal speaker of the meeting's after-dinner program at the Country Club.

Using terms that were readily understandable by laymen in his audience, Dr. Roszmann described a half dozen different types of anesthetics; he told how they are administered, the patient reaction and the good features of each. In saying the decision on which type of anesthetic should be used should be left to the doctors, Dr. Roszmann pointed out that some reacted adversely on the heart, others affected the respiratory system and others the blood. A knowledge of the patient and his, or her, physical weaknesses, he said guided the doctors in determining the anesthetic to be used.

When he finished, the interest of the group had been so stimulated that he was kept answering questions for another half hour.

He was introduced by a fellow physician, Dr. James Rose, who gave some of the highlights of his personal background and training for the medical profession.

HUGH B. SOLLARS, the president of the chapter, presided at the business session at which the coming national Sympsiarch convention at Columbus April 15-16 was discussed at length.

After a show of hands indicated that between 20 and 25 members of the chapter here planned to attend, a suggestion that the chapter set up headquarters in the Dresher-Hilton Hotel was given unanimous approval. It was brought out that this was

Tom Thumb Wedding Set for PTO Meet

A "Tom Thumb Wedding" will be a feature of the program the youngsters of the first six grades will put on for the Wayne PTO Monday evening.

Members who've never seen Tom Thumb married will have their chance at the meeting slated to star at 8 P. M. in the school gym. The ceremony will be a mock wedding, of course, with the bride, groom, minister and all the super-numeraries played by the youngsters.

In charge of the program will be the teachers: Mrs. Dale Eakins, Mrs. Eugene Frazer, Mrs. Willard Judy, Mrs. Emerald Sollars and Mrs. Earl Deering. An Easter theme will be used in the kids show.

On the refreshment committee for meeting will be Mrs. Lawrence Hoppes, Mrs. Theodore Knisley, Mrs. Eddie Hoskins, Mrs. Robert Newell, Mrs. Ray Warner and John Craig.

the customary practice by most chapters at national conventions.

Joseph Campbell heads the committee that is to canvass the membership and make reservations. Belford F. Carpenter is the national vice president.

The chapter also instructed President Sollars, who also is the official delegate, to extend an invitation to the convention to meet in Washington C. H. next year. The national convention was held here four years ago with around 75 delegates.

Two new members were formally inducted at the start of the business session with a short ceremony. They were George Baker, Beta Theta Pi from Denison University, and Elmer Reed, Phi Gamma Delta from Washington and Jefferson University.

Hosts for this meeting were Harford Hankins, Dr. Hugh Payton and Dr. Fred D. Woollard.

Mother Is Awarded Custody of Child

In a lengthy decision in the habeas corpus proceedings filed March 21 in common pleas court by Howard Runnels and Betty Runnels to obtain custody of their child, Norma Jean Runnels, from Arthur Dillon, maternal grandfather of the child, Judge John P. Case has awarded custody of the child to the mother, Betty Runnels.

At a hearing of the habeas corpus proceedings soon after they were filed, Judge Case gave temporary custody of the child to the parents.

The decision mentions various criminal charges filed against Howard Runnels, two of which were never completed or dismissed in probate court two or three years ago.

In his decision Judge Case points out that failure of the lower court to complete the proceedings two or three years ago has proven a handicap in dealing with the present situation.

Hayride Planned By Junior Leaders

A hayride and wiener roast was planned for its next meeting, April 14, by the Junior Leadership Club at its regular meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Members are to gather at the home of Roger Gorman at 7:30 P. M. and bring their own wieners and buns.

Karma Kay Knox, the resident, conducted the meeting and Roger Bonham led the group in repeating the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Albert G. Cobb, the associate county agent, reviewed the good grooming clinic that was held this week in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium, and outlined plans for the advisors conference that is to be held April 11.

Darwin Bryan is to be a guest of the club at its April 28 meeting. Following adjournment of the meeting, there was square dancing and finally refreshments.

"Allegiance" derives from "liege," which was first used to mean "simple" or "unconditioned" in describing feudal relationships.

Theft Cases Heard By Judge Brubaker

One of the three 15-year-old boys who recently were rounded up by police after they had stolen upward of $500 worth of merchandise of all descriptions from garages and other places, has been placed on probation by Judge R. L. Brubaker.

Decision on disposition of the other two boys involved in the thefts will be made Saturday, Judge Brubaker said.

Police are still holding much of the loot stolen by the boys. It is awaiting claim by the owners.

The loot runs all the way from auto accessories to a radio and other valuable property.

WILMINGTON — Plans are on foot for obtaining a municipal court for Wilmington to replace the Mayor's Court.

Bloomington Wins Baseball Opener

Bloomington's ball club opened its season Thursday with a 3-2 win against Fairfield High School in a game played on the Bloomington diamond.

Fairfield got off to a one-run lead in the first inning, with the score at 2-1, but failed to score again. After scoring once in the first, the Bulldogs scored a run in the third and another in the fifth.

Jerry Welsh pitched the first four innings for Bloomington, allowing the two Fairfield runs on three hits. The winning pitcher was Don Anderson, who took over from Welsh at the beginning of the fifth and hurled the last three innings. He didn't allow a hit.

Welsh had four strike-outs and Anderson three.

Losing pitcher David Peters twirled seven strike-outs for Fairfield, but allowed three runs on five hits.

Jerry McCoy crossed the plate twice for Bloomington and Larry Lee scored the other run.

The winners: Bloomington, with three runs on five hits; two errors. Losers were Fairfield, with two runs on three hits and two errors.

Unceasing War
on a World of Killers

★ Leeuwenhoek, in 1683, was the first to disturb the privacy of the teeming bustle of the unseen world. The "wretched wee beasties" cavorting innocently under his lens were later indicted and convicted by Koch and Pasteur. Unbeknown to Leeuwenhoek, he had discovered a vicious and unseen world of killers, now known as bacteria, or germs.

The span of time between Leeuwenhoek and Pasteur was almost 200 years. Only an average lifetime has passed since Pasteur's experiments, during which practically all we know about disease and its treatment has been discovered. Our knowledge is expanding at an ever-increasing rate. The pharmacist works with the physician in bringing newer and better medication into the sickroom.
